Part 1 Introduction to Marketing Research	1	Key Terms and Concepts	39
1 Defining Marketing Research	3	Review Questions	40
USING MARKETING RESEARCH FOR EFFECTIVELY REACHING AND MANAGING CUSTOMERS – ADIDAS'S FIFA WORLD CUP MARKETING RESEARCH PROJECT IN FRANCE	3	Discussion Questions	40
Definition and Usefulness of Marketing Research	5	2 The Marketing Research Process	41
Marketing Research and Marketing Framework of Marketing Planning and Research Activities	6	USING THE RESEARCH PROCESS TO ADDRESS MARKETING PROBLEMS – RE-LAUNCHING THE REXONA BRAND IN THE FRENCH DEODORANT MARKET	41
Situation Analysis	8	Value of the Marketing Research Process	44
Market Analysis	11	Changing View of the Marketing Research Process	44
Market Segmentation	12	Determining the Need for Marketing Research	46
Competitive Analysis	12	Phases of the Marketing Research Process	50
Programme Design	13	Transforming Raw Data into Information	51
Target Marketing	13	Interrelatedness of the Steps and the Research Process	53
Positioning	13	Phase I: Determine the Research Problem	54
New Product Planning	14	Step 1: Identify and Clarify Management's Information Needs	54
Programme Development	14	Step 2: Specify the Research Questions and Define the Research Problem	58
Product Portfolio Analysis	15	Step 3: Confirm Research Objectives and Assess the Value of Information	60
Distribution Decisions	16	Phase II: Select the Appropriate Research Design	61
Pricing Decisions	18	Step 4: Determine the Research Design and Data Sources	61
Integrated Marketing Communication Decisions	19	Step 5: Determine the Sampling Plan and Sample Size	63
Programme Tracking	20	Step 6: Assess Measurement Issues and Scales	64
Programme Control	20	Step 7: Pretest the Questionnaire	65
Critical Information Analysis	21
