

Contents

List of Contributors	ii
Preface and Introduction	vi
Acknowledgements	viii
1 Planning future industrial development in response to energy and environmental constraints John H. Cumberland	1
2 North Sea oil and gas resources: their implications for the location of industry in Western Europe Peter R. Odell	11
3 Multinational enterprise and the European Economic Community F. E. Ian Hamilton	24
4 Industrial migration in the United Kingdom in the 1960s David E. Keeble	42
5 Regional policy and industrial complexes: reflections on British experience Kenneth Warren	56
6 Complex territorial changes in old industrial areas of the German Democratic Republic Horst Kohl	65
7 A long-term regional distribution model for Hungarian industry Gyula Bora	73
8 Spatial industrial changes in Poland since 1945 Ryszard Wilczewski, Teofil Lijewski and Bronislaw Kortus	80
9 Mezzogiorno: regional inequalities in industrial growth within an underdeveloped region Allan B. Rodgers	99
10 Industrial migration in West Africa: the Nigerian case J. Okezie C. Onyemelukwe	119
11 Trends in industrial location in India Mand Ranjan Chaudhuri	132
12 The Australian environment and industrial location analysis Godfrey J. R. Linge	144
13 Manufacturing change, internal control and government spending in a growth region of the USA John Rees	155
Index	175