

Contents

| | |
|---|------|
| Series Preface | viii |
| Acknowledgements | ix |
| Chronology | xi |
| Introduction | 1 |
| Intentions and Chapter Overview | 1 |
| Writers, Theatre and Drama | 5 |
| Theatre and Theory | 11 |
| Contemporary Theatre in Context – A Brief History | 15 |
| Chapter 1 In-Yer-Face Theatre and Legacies of the New Writing Boom | 24 |
| New Writing, Then and Now | 24 |
| Simon Stephens, Gregory Burke and Caryl Churchill | 31 |
| New Writing Tomorrow | 51 |
| Chapter 2 Verbatim Theatre – The Rise of a Political Voice | 58 |
| A Climate for Verbatim | 58 |
| Research, Editing and Truth | 65 |
| Problems in Performance | 72 |
| Dealing with Limitations | 76 |

| | | |
|------------|---|-----|
| Chapter 3 | Writing and Devising – The Call for Collaboration | 82 |
| | Drama and Collaboration | 82 |
| | Writing as Devising | 87 |
| | Case Studies: David Eldridge, Market Boy ; Bryony Lavery, Stockholm ; the Hidden City Festival and Cartoon de Salvo | 92 |
| | Future Narratives | 101 |
| Chapter 4 | Black and Asian Writers – A Question of Representation | 108 |
| | Separation, Difference and Terminology | 108 |
| | Multiculturalism, Globalisation and Censorship | 114 |
| | Identity, Aesthetics and Language | 119 |
| | Looking Forward | 126 |
| Chapter 5 | Theatre for Young People – Audiences of Today | 133 |
| | A Recent History | 133 |
| | Commonalities and Challenges in Theatre for Young People | 136 |
| | Case Studies: Edward Bond and Big Brum, Fin Kennedy and Mulberry School, National Theatre Connections | 139 |
| | What Next for Young People’s Theatre? | 151 |
| Chapter 6 | Adaptation and Transposition – Reinterpreting the Past | 157 |
| | What is Adaptation? | 157 |
| | Imagination and Adventure: Filter, Punchdrunk and Kneehigh | 164 |
| | Text as Template: Northern Broadsides and Headlong Theatre | 172 |
| | The Past is the Future: A Footnote to Adaptation | 181 |
| Conclusion | | 188 |
| | Reading Contemporary Drama | 188 |
| | The Contemporary in Context | 192 |
| | Theory and Practice: A Final Word | 195 |

| | |
|--------------------------|-----|
| Student Resources | 198 |
| Electronic Resources | 198 |
| Questions for Discussion | 201 |
| Guide to Further Reading | 207 |
| Index | 216 |