

Contents

Abbreviations	page ix
List of illustrations	x
A note on names and the citation of Irish words	xi
Acknowledgements	xii
Introduction: honour in Britain and Ireland	I
Chapter 1 The honour revolution of 1541	20
Chapter 2 Gaelic honour in Tudor Ireland	44
Gaelic response in annals and poetry: introduction	46
The Annals of Loch Cé	52
Gaelic response in poetry	66
The Maguire poembook	67
The poems of Tadhg Dall Ó hUiginn	75
Chapter 3 'British' honour and the Nine Years' War	92
Gaelic and Old English honour and the Nine Years' War	102
Aristocratic versus monarchical honour in the Nine Years' War	112
Honour politics and the war's conclusion	116
Chapter 4 Making the Irish European: Gaelic honour after the Nine Years' War	122
Introduction	122
Tadhg Ó Cianáin's grand tour of the earls	123
Avant-garde traditionalism? Beatha Aodha Ruaidh Uí Dhombnail and the Europeanization of 'medieval' Gaelic honour	135
Making the Irish European	144
Chapter 5 Gaelic and Old English honour in early Stuart 'Britain'	146
Gaelic fears of social inversion	147
Ethnicity, anglicization and ancient honour: Donough O'Brien, Earl of Thomond, and his pedigrees	158

	Old English and English honour: the case of Richard Burke, Earl of Clanricard and St Albans	181
	The social dangers of precedence disputes	192
Chapter 6	A hierarchy transformed? Precedence disputes, the defence of honour and 'British' high-politics, 1603–1632	194
	British honour and the Irish Parliament of 1613–15	195
	English precedence and politics and the threat from the provinces	208
Chapter 7	Wentworth, the Irish Lord Deputyship and the Caroline politics of honour	221
	Wentworth and the honour politics of Stuart England	224
	Wentworth as viceroy	230
	Conclusion	268
	Bibliography	279
	Index	294