

Contents

List of illustrations	xi
List of contributors	xiii
Acknowledgements	xvii

Introduction: borders, boundaries and crossings – sport, migration and identities	1
JOSEPH MAGUIRE AND MARK FALCOUS

PART I

Patterns of migration and sport 13

1 From the South to Europe: a comparative analysis of African and Latin American football migration	15
RAFFAELE POLI AND ROGER BESSON
2 Why tax international athlete migration? The 'Coubertobin' tax in a context of financial crisis	31
WLADIMIR ANDREFF
3 Moving with the bat and the ball: the migration of Japanese baseball labour, 1912–2009	46
YOSHIO TAKAHASHI AND JOHN HORNE
4 From the Soviet Bloc to the European Community: migrating professional footballers in and out of Hungary	56
GYOZO MOLNAR

PART II		71
Bridgeheads in migration and sport
5 Preliminary observations on globalisation and the migration of sport labour		73
JOSEPH MAGUIRE
6 Sport labour migration as a global value chain: the Dominican case		88
ALAN KLEIN
7 'Net-gains': informal recruiting, Canadian players and British professional ice hockey		102
RICHARD ELLIOTT AND JOSEPH MAGUIRE
8 'Have board, will travel': global physical youth cultures and trans-national mobility		112
HOLLY THORPE
PART III
Experiences of migration and sport		127
9 Migrants, mercenaries and overstayers: talent migration in Pacific Island rugby		129
ANDREW GRAINGER
10 Blade runners: Canadian migrants and European ice hockey		141
JOSEPH MAGUIRE
11 Female football migration: motivational factors for early migratory processes		157
SINE AGERGAARD AND VERA BOTELHO
PART IV
Identities in migration and sport		173
12 Globetrotters in local contexts: basketball migrants, fans and local identities		175
MARK FALCOUS AND JOSEPH MAGUIRE

13	Diaspora and global sports migration: a case study in the English and New Zealand contexts	189
	TONI BRUCE AND BELINDA WHEATON
14	Tries for the nation? International rugby players' perspectives on national identity	200
	JASON TUCK
PART V
	Impacts of migration on sports and societies	215
15	The new international division of cultural labour and sport	217
	TOBY MILLER, DAVID ROWE AND GEOFFREY LAWRENCE
16	Transnational athletes: celebrities and migrant players in fútbol and hockey	230
	RICARDO TRUMPER AND LLOYD L. WONG
17	Out of Africa: the exodus of elite African football talent to Europe	245
	PAUL DARBY
18	Touring, travelling and accelerated mobilities: team and player mobilities in New Zealand rugby union	259
	CAMILLA OBEL AND TERRY AUSTRIN
	Future directions: sporting mobilities, immobilities and moorings	274
	MARK FALCOUS AND JOSEPH MAGUIRE
	References and bibliography	278
	Index	312