

Contents

1	Introduction	9
2	The Northland as Imaginary Geography	19
2.1	Imaginary Geography and the North as Imaginary Geography.....	21
2.2	The Imaginary Geography of the North – Historical Overview	29
2.3	The Imaginary Geography of the North as Outsiders’ Perspective.....	33
2.4	London’s and Service’s Imaginary Northland – Outsiders’ Perspectives.....	36
3	Imagining the Northland as Frontier	41
3.1	Connecting the Northland to Previous Frontiers.....	53
3.2	Imagining the Northland Frontier as Escape	70
4	Imagining the Northland as “Eldorado”	79
4.1	The ‘Trail of Ninety-Eight’ – On the Way to the Klondike.....	87
4.2	Hoping for a Fortune in the Klondike.....	96
4.3	Greed, Desire, and Lucky Swedes	104
4.4	No ‘Klondike’ in the Klondike.....	109
5	Imagining the Northland as Blank Space “Beyond the Last Boundary of the World”	117
5.1	Terra Incognita? – Geography and Motion Patterns in the Northland.....	123
5.1.1	Roaming the Land of Beyond – Service’s Restless Men	123
5.1.2	Moving Through Blank Space – London’s Northern Nightmares.....	127
5.1.3	Filling the Blank – Writing a Northern Geography	133
5.2	The Dark Heart in the Shadows of the Pole.....	140
5.2.1	Connecting the Imaginary Geographies of Africa and the Northland.....	140
5.2.2	Connecting the Imaginary Geographies of the North Pole and the Northland.....	154
5.3	“Searching My Uttermost Valleys” – Male Exploration of a Feminized Northland.....	160

6	Imagining the Northland as Projection Space for Ideologies of White Masculinity	173
6.1	“One of those Intensely Masculine Vacations” – The Northland as Place for the (Re)definition of Masculine Identity.....	174
6.2	“Send Me the Best of Your Breeding” – (Re)defining Masculine Identity within the Ideology of White Nordic Supremacy	202
6.3	The Northland as Space for White Men?.....	225
7	Imagining the Northland as Wilderness	239
7.1	“The Spell of the Yukon” – Northland and Topophilia.....	248
7.1.1	The “Spell” of the Yukon and the “Call” of the Wild.....	249
7.1.2	“There is No Doctor Like the Wild” – Restorative Qualities of the Northland	259
7.1.3	From “Vast Stretches of Smiling Land” to “White Land Locked Tight as a Drum” – the Seasons in the Northland.....	269
7.2	“The Savage, Frozen-Hearted Northland Wild” – Topophobia and the Northland.....	287
7.2.1	The Fear of the North – Psychological Confrontation with the Northland.....	290
7.2.1.1	“Haunted by Nameless Things” – From Loneliness to Going “Bushed”.....	295
7.2.1.2	“Eyes Alight with a Sombre Frenzy” – From Going “Bushed” to Murder and Suicide.....	310
7.2.2	“Death in the Arctic” – Physical Confrontation with the Northland.....	328
7.2.2.1	“Skin and Bones and Frozen Black” – Frostbite and Scurvy	332
7.2.2.2	The Great Cold – Freezing to Death in London’s “To Build a Fire” and Service’s “Lost”.....	338
7.2.2.3	Frozen to Death – The ‘Coffin-on-Sled Topos’ in London’s White Fang and Service’s “The Cremation of Sam McGee” and “The Ballad of Blasphemous Bill”	352
8	Conclusion	373
Appendix
	Alternative Terms for the Northland.....	387
	Geographical Range of London’s Northland	388
	Alphabetical List of Places in London’s Northland.....	390
	Alphabetical List of Places Outside London’s Northland.....	404
	Geographical Range of Service’s Northland.....	408
	Alphabetical List Places in Service’s Northland	408
	Alphabetical List of Places Outside Service’s Northland	410

Deutsche Zusammenfassung (German Summary)	412
English Summary (Englische Zusammenfassung)	414
Bibliography	417
Index.....	449
Acknowledgements.....	455