

TABLE OF CONTENTS

CHAPTER 1. Introduction .....	1
CHAPTER 2. Defining and Mapping Cultural Identity in the Context of a Postcolonial Cultural Landscape .....	5
2.1. Cultural Hybridity as a New Transcultural Identity in the Regions of Contact .....	14
2.2. Cultural Identity Formation and “The Politics of Recognition” .....	18
2.3. Cultural Imperialism and its Legacy .....	22
CHAPTER 3. Political Violence in a (Post-)Colonial Context .....	25
3.1. Types and Effects of Violence .....	28
3.2. Types and Effects of Political Violence .....	33
3.2.1. Direct Political Violence and its Manifestations .....	34
3.2.2. Indirect Political Violence and its Manifestations .....	41
3.2.2.1. Ideology – Definition and Role .....	41
3.2.3. Manifestations of Indirect Political Violence .....	45
CHAPTER 4. Cultural Identity Formation Process and Colonial Violence – Defining the Relationship .....	55
4.1. Interpellation and State Apparatuses .....	58
4.2. Colonial Psychopathology and Cultural Identity Crisis .....	64
4.3. Cultural Identity and Political Violence – an Interdependent Relation? .....	70
CHAPTER 5. The Issue of Cultural Identity Transformation in Postcolonial Literature .....	74
5.1. Political Violence as the Colonial Legacy in Anthills of the Savannah .....	75
5.2. Bitter Fruit of (Post)Apartheid Violence .....	83
5.3. Colonial Pathology and Colonial Identities in Nervous Conditions .....	93
5.4. Search for Identity in The Final Passage .....	105

5.5. Solving the Identity Puzzle in Fruit of the Lemon .....	114
5.6. The Branches and the Roots in Some Kind of Black .....	124
5.7. The British Multicultural Experiment in The Buddha of Suburbia .....	134
CONCLUSION .....	146
BIBLIOGRAPHY .....	151
Primary Texts .....	151
Secondary Sources .....	152
Internet Sources .....	166
INDEX .....	168