

Contents

Contributors	vi
Preface Eugene Grebenik	vii
Part I: Introduction
1 The demographic background Pierre Guilmot (with the assistance of Monique Renaerts)	3
Part II: Implications
2 The working population Hilde Wander	53
3 Economic growth Denis Maillat	72
4 The family Max Wingen	93
5 Welfare David Eversley	115
Part III: Policies
6 The influence of governments Paolo De Sandre	145
7 Migration and redistribution Mario Sica	171
8 The control of fertility trends Gérard Calot and Jacqueline Hecht	178
9 Illusions about attitudes John Simons	197
10 Towards a population policy for western Europe Dirk J. van de Kaa	215
Part IV: Conclusion
11 A review of the prospects Guillaume Wunsch	233
12 Conclusions of the Seminar	242
Index	245