

Figures et culture de la dépression
The Representation and Culture of Depression

Sommaire

Introduction	11
Michelle FAUBERT Nathaniel Cotton and James Beattie : Graveyard Verse as Psychological Therapy for the Melancholy	21
Charlotte HOLDEN « Contraries often prove Remedies ». Laughter as a Cure for Melancholy in Eighteenth-Century Medicine	35
William ROBERTS Dr Brown's Cure for Depression : a paper on The Cure of Saul, an oratorio by Dr John Brown, 1715-66	47
Sophie VASSET Medicina Musica : un remède à la mélancholie des rois ?	59
Ramona WRAY Depressive Patterns and Textual Solutions in Seventeenth-Century Women's Autobiography	75
Heather MEEK Creative Hysteria and the Intellectual Woman of Feeling	87
Melinda Alliker RABB Is « Before Depression » Before Paranoia ?	99
Jeremy SCHMIDT Before Depression, the Very Idea : Spaces of Emergence	115
Nigel Wood The « Official » and « Unofficial » Spleen	129
Madeleine DESCARGUES-GRANT Burton and Sons : the Masks of Melancholy	143

Sabine WENDEL

A « Stranger to the Spleen ? » : Jonathan Swift and Depression 167

Contributors 179