

Contents

| | |
|-------------------------------------|----|
| Preface | 7 |
| Publications by Johannes-Peter Timm | 10 |
| Tabula Gratulatoria | 16 |

English in a multilingual world

Werner Hüllen

| | |
|--|----|
| A world language is born: English as a national and as the world language | 21 |
|--|----|

Gerhard Bach

| | |
|--|----|
| Europeans and languages: Assessing the multilingual divide | 35 |
|--|----|

Peter Doyé

| | |
|-------------------------------|----|
| Education for plurilingualism | 51 |
|-------------------------------|----|

Wholeheartedly English right from the beginning

Werner Bleyhl

| | |
|--|----|
| Foreign language acquisition at the primary school starting in grade one. The new Baden-Württemberg curriculum | 73 |
|--|----|

Gerhard W. Schnaitmann

| | |
|--|----|
| Early foreign language learning in first grade elementary school. Results from a school experiment in Baden-Württemberg with the European project DINOCROC | 94 |
|--|----|

Language learning in a cooperative, holistic, task-oriented, student-centred way

Claudia Finkbeiner

Foreign language practice and cooperative learning 109

Renate Löffler

“Brainlinking”: Holistic learning and learner orientation 123

Liesel Hermes

“Do they love each other?” Learner autonomy in university literature courses 137

Joachim Appel

Student-centred approaches and teachers’ experiential knowledge 149

Grammar and spoken discourse

Wolfgang Butzkamm

Grammar in action – The case for bilingual pattern drills 163

Uwe Multhaupt

A processing view of teaching English grammar 176

Christina Lausevic

Spoken discourse: From linguistics to pedagogy 196

Content and language integrated learning

Sylvia Fehling

Language awareness in content and language integrated learning 213

Heike Rautenhaus

Teacher students practising task-oriented foreign language exercises 222

Helmut J. Vollmer

Project orientation in content and language integrated learning 235

Learning languages through songs and media

Willis Edmondson

Elvis analysed 255

Wilfried Brusch

Discovering Shakespeare: A media-integrated approach 267

Wilfried Gienow & Karlheinz Hellwig

Are pop and rock songs “simple forms”? A genre study with some implications for the process-oriented approach to foreign language learning 281