

Contents

Editors and contributors	vii
PART I
Background and context	1
1 Introduction	3
ROBYN L. JONES
PART II
Sociological thinkers	13
2 Erving Goffman: Interaction and impression management: playing the coaching role	15
ROBYN L. JONES, PAUL POTRAC, CHRIS CUSHION AND LARS TORE RONGLAN WITH CHRIS DAVEY
3 Michel Foucault: Power and discourse: the ‘loaded’ language of coaching	27
JIM DENISON WITH DAVE SCOTT-THOMAS
4 Pierre Bourdieu: A theory of (coaching) practice	40
CHRIS CUSHION WITH WILL KITCHEN
5 Arlie Russell Hochschild: The managed heart, feeling rules, and emotional labour: coaching as an emotional endeavour	54
PAUL POTRAC WITH PHIL MARSHALL

6 Anthony Giddens: Acknowledging structure and individuality within coaching	67
LAURA PURDY WITH STEPHEN ABOUD
7 Niklas Luhmann: Coaching as communication	79
LARS TORE RONGLAN WITH ØYSTEIN HAVANG
8 Etienne Wenger: Coaching and communities of practice	94
CHRIS CUSHION WITH GARY DENSTONE
9 Peter Blau: Exchange, reciprocity and dependency: how coaches and athletes rely on each other	108
ROBYN L. JONES WITH JAKE BAILEY
10 Jürgen Habermas: Communicative action, the system and the lifeworld: critiquing social interaction in coaching	122
PAUL POTRAC WITH STEPHEN BARRETT
PART III
Coaching and the social	133
11 Power in coaching	135
PAUL POTRAC AND ROBYN L. JONES
12 Social interaction in coaching	151
LARS TORE RONGLAN
13 Coach and athlete learning: a social approach	166
CHRIS CUSHION
14 Concluding thoughts and ways forward	179
ROBYN L. JONES, LARS TORE RONGLAN, PAUL POTRAC AND CHRIS CUSHION
References	187
Index	207