

Contents

Series Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Chronology	xii
Introduction	I
'New, Newer and Newest' Poetry	2
Poetics?	4
Before the 1970s: Poetic Precedents	6
New Lines, The New Poetry, The New American Poetry	7
Blood, Bread and Poetry: Gender and Poetics	11
Multiformalisms: Form and Contemporary Poetry	13
Structure of the Book	17
Chapter 1 Lyric Subjects	25
Towards a Theory of Lyric Expression	27
Elegy and Epistle: Andrew Motion and Lee Harwood	28
Speaking (Auto) Biographically: Cathy Song and Grace Nichols	31
Self-reflexive Lyrics: Portraiture in John Ashbery, Sujata Bhatt and Jorie Graham	39
Nobody's Voice: Michael Palmer	47
Conclusion: Jennifer Moxley's Deceitful Subjective	51

Chapter 2	Politics and Poetics	58
	Founding Propositions: Politics and Post-World War II Poetry	59
	A Day in Politics: Inauguration Poets Maya Angelou and Elizabeth Alexander	63
	Pastoral and Ludic: Seamus Heaney and Paul Muldoon	67
	The Politics of Language: Poetry and the Public Sphere – Charles Bernstein	72
	Reporting War: Eliot Weinberger	76
	Politics and Poetics of Exile: Choman Hardi	80
	Veteran's Experience: Yusef Komunyakaa	82
	Reclaiming History: Rita Dove's 'Parsley'	85
	Conclusion: Reading the Archive – M. NourbeSe Philip's Zong!	87
Chapter 3	Performance and the Poem	98
	Open Field Poetics and Projective Verse: Adaptations	99
	Countercultural Performance: Lawrence Ferlinghetti	101
	Performing Race: Amiri Baraka's Jazz Poetic	102
	Dub Poetry and its Descendants: Mutabaruka, Linton Kwesi Johnson and Benjamin Zephaniah	107
	The Poet Performer: Drama and Comedy in Paul Durcan and Don Paterson	112
	Performativity: Lyn Hejinian	116
	Performance, the Voice and the World: Kate Fagan	121
	Conclusion: Performance Writing and Experiment: Caroline Bergvall	124
Chapter 4	Environment and Space	133
	Reading Space and Environment	133
	Ecocriticism: Landscape and Ecology in Gary Snyder's Poetry	134
	A Poetics of Place: Geoffrey Hill, Robert Hass and Anne Szumigalski	137
	The Spatial Turn	144
	Space, the City and the Poem: Edwin Morgan, Kathleen Jamie and Paula Meehan	146
	Psychogeography: The Poet in the City – Iain Sinclair	151

Travelogue from the Regional to the Global: Robert Minhinnick and Lorna Goodison	154
Ecopoetics and the Future	157
Apocalyptic Landscapes: John Kinsella	159
Conclusion: Juliana Spahr's Ecopoetics and Ideas of Connection	161
Chapter 5 Dialects, Idiolects and Multilingual Poetries	171
Global Poetry or, English as a Global Language	171
Dialect and Phonetic Poetry: Tony Harrison, Tom Leonard and Liz Lochhead	173
The 'big one, better tongue': Jackie Kay	179
From Orality to Text: Ethnopoetics in Simon Ortiz and Joy Harjo's Poetry	181
Bilingualism and Translation in Poetry	184
'My glossolalia shall be my passport': Gwyneth Lewis	185
Immigration and Linguistic Difference: Li-Young Lee	189
Interlingual Poetics: Lorna Dee Cervantes	192
Idiolects or Ideolectical Poetries	195
Linguistic Cross-fertilisation: Tusiata Avia	198
Conclusion: Daljit Nagra	199
Conclusion	207
What is Electronic Writing?	208
Content-specific Electronic Writing : John Cayley, Jenny Weight, Ingrid Ankersen and Megan Sapnar, Reiner Strasser and M.D. Coverley	210
Electronic Experimentation and Language: Peter Finch and Trevor Joyce	214
Poet's Playground: 'Flarf' Poetry	217
Documentation and Poetry: Mark Nowak's Coal Mountain Elementary	219
Textured Information: Joshua Clover and Claudia Rankine	223
Disseminating Poetry	225

Student Resources	231
Electronic Resources	231
Questions for Discussion	237
Glossary	240
Poetry Anthologies	247
Guide to Further Reading	249
Index	255