

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	1
PART I	23
The romanticisation of the local
1 Civil society, needs and welfare	25
2 The culture of liberal peacebuilding	44
3 Critical perspectives of liberal peacebuilding: Cambodia, Bosnia Herzegovina, Kosovo and Timor Leste	66
4 De-romanticising the local: implications for post-liberal peacebuilding	92
PART II	115
Hybridity and the infrapolitics of peacebuilding
5 Everyday critical agency and resistance in peacebuilding	117
6 De-romanticising the local, de-mystifying the international: aspects of the local-liberal hybrid	151
Conclusion: The birth of a post-liberal peace	186
Appendix 1: HDI and GINI data for post-conflict countries: from settlement to the present	217
Appendix 2: International versus local perspectives of peacebuilding in Bosnia	220

Appendix 3: Universal welfare support in transitional states (very rough model)	224
Notes	226
Bibliography	258
Index	274