

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Series Foreword	xi
Foreword by Steve Dietz	xiii

1 Introduction 1

What Is New Media Art?	2
What Is Curating?	10
The Structure of the Book	11

I Art After New Media—Histories, Theories, and Behaviors 17

2 The Art Formerly Known as “New Media” 19

The Hype of the New	22
New Media Art—Modernist or Avant-Garde?	27
From Postmodernism to a Postmedium Condition	29
Art Example: Cornelia Sollfrank, Net Art Generator(s), and Female Extension	32
Rethinking Curating	38
Exhibition Example: Harwood@Mongrel, Uncomfortable Proximity	43
Summary: Curating in a Postmedium Condition?	47

3 Space and Materiality 51

Dematerialization—From Conceptual Art to Systems Art	52
How New Media Art Is Different	60
Art Example: Thomson &amp; Craighead, Light from Tomorrow	67
Rethinking Curating	69
Exhibition Example: Let’s Entertain and Art Entertainment Network, Walker Art Center	73
Summary: Dematerialized or Just Distributed?	83

4 Time 87

Time-Based Arts—Video and Performance	88
How New Media Art Is Different	92
Art Example: Rachel Reupke, Pico Mirador	94

Rethinking Curating	99
Exhibition Example: Medialounge, the Media Centre	103
Summary: Curating in Real Time?	109
5 Participative Systems	111
Interaction, Participation, and Collaboration	112
How New Media Art Is Different	117
Art Example: Harrell Fletcher and Miranda July, Learning to Love You More	120
Rethinking Curating	124
Exhibition Example: Serious Games, Laing Art Gallery	134
Summary: How Participatory Are These Systems?	138
II Rethinking Curating—Contexts, Practices, and Processes	145
6 Introduction to Rethinking Curating	147
Curating in Context—In and Out of the Institution	148
Models and Modes—The Practice of Curating	153
Summary: Curating Now—Distributed Processes?	157
7 On Interpretation, on Display, on Audience	161
Education, Interpretation, and Curating	162
Example: Tate Media	164
On Display	170
Audiences	177
Summary: A Useful Confusion?	184
8 Curating in an Art Museum	189
Why Would a New Media Artist Want to Exhibit in an Art Museum?	189
The Building or the Immaterial Systems?	192
Working across Departments	194
Example: 010101, San Francisco Museum of Modern Art	194
Documentation and Archiving	200
On Collections	202
Summary: Networking the Museum	210
9 Other Modes of Curating	215
Festivals—New, Hybrid, and (Upwardly?) Mobile	216
Example: Vuk Ćosić, Documenta Done and Net.art per me	218
Arts Agencies and Public Art—Located, Engaged, and Flexible	224
Example: New Media Scotland	227
Publishing and Broadcast—Distributed, Reproducible, and Networked	230
Example: Kate Rich	233
The Lab—Experimental, Interdisciplinary, and Research-Led	234
Example: V2_, Rotterdam	238
Summary: From Production to Distribution and Beyond	242

10 Collaboration in Curating 247

Artist-Run—Alternative Spaces and Independent Organizations 247

Swapping Roles—Artists as Curators 253

Example: NODE.London 260

Collaborative Practices—Networks and Audiences 266

Summary: Artist-Led or Audience-Led? 275

III Conclusions 281*11 Conclusions: Histories, Vocabularies, Modes 283

A Set of Histories 285

Critical Vocabularies—Which Verbs, Which Systems? 288

Beyond Novelty—Curatorial Modes 299

The Task at Hand—Translation 302

References 307

Index 339

Exhibitions Index 353