

---

Contents

List of figures
List of contributors
Preface
Acknowledgements
1 The foundations of migration study – P. E. White and R. I. Woods	1
Introduction	1
Definitions and sources	3
Why does migration occur?	7
The migrants –who migrates?	12
Approaches to a typology of migration	18
2 Spatial patterns of migration flows – P. E. White and R. I. Woods	21
The shape of migration flows in time and space	22
Laws of migration flow	34
Step and chain migration	36
Migration streams and counter-streams	38
Migration and gravity	39
3 The geographical impact of migration – P.E. White and R. I. Woods	57
A framework for migration impact study	43
Systems analysis of migration	48
An example of a systems framework: European labour migration	49
Conclusions	55
4 Studies of the geographical impact of migration – P. E. White and R. I. Woods	57
5 Migration and overpopulation – D. B. Grigg	60
Overpopulation and optimum theory	61
Migration in pre-industrial societies, A.D. 1000–1750	65
Migration in the age of industrialization	69
The Third World since 1950: population growth and migration	76
Conclusions	82
6 Past mobility and spatial preferences for migration in East Africa – M. Bell	84
The traditional fields of enquiry into African migration	84
The role of education	86
The survey	90
Past mobility and spatial preferences	96
The influence of cultural background	99
Conclusions	106
7 Migration and land as aspects of underdevelopment: an approach to agricultural migration in Bolivia – P. E. Buksmann	108
Migration, land tenure and underdevelopment	109
Land tenure reform, economic underdevelopment and migration in Bolivia	111
The Monteagudo case study area	113
Migration into the Monteagudo area – results of data analysis	118
Conclusions	126

8	Labour migration and suburban expansion in the north of England: Sheffield in the 1860s and 1870s – P. Cromar	129
	Traditional work on labour migration	129
	Data sources	134
	Data analysis	141
	Summary and conclusions	150
9	Migration, marriage and the collapse of traditional peasant society in France – P. E. Ogden	152
	Migration and the collapse of the peasant economy in France	152
	Rural depopulation and the changing structure of village communities	156
	Marriage distance and the decline of rural isolation in the Ardèche, 1860–1970	164
	Conclusions	176
10	Migration and social segregation in Birmingham and the West Midlands Region – R. I. Woods	180
	Segregation and migration	181
	Social segregation in Birmingham and the West Midlands Region	182
	Officers to the south; men to the north	189
	Conclusions	195
11	Migration loss and the residual community: a study in rural France, 1962–1975 – P. E. White	198
	The study of the impact of migration loss	198
	The Normandy study area	201
	The selectivity of migration	206
	Demographic effects of migration loss	212
	Migration loss and local administration	217
	Conclusions: migration loss and the residual community	219
	Further reading	223
	References	224
	Index	239