

Contents

Introduction

- Unfolding social construction: sociological routes and political roots 1
Rolland Munro

Part 1 Borders 23

- The Danube and ways of imagining Europe 25
Michael Schillmeier and Wiebke Pohler

- The art of narrating and the question of cultural acknowledgment:
the case of Die Kinder von Golzow and a reunified Germany 44
Barbara Grüning

Part 2 Belonging 61

- Landscape, imagination and experience: processes of emplacement among the British in rural France 63
Michaela Benson

- The reproduction of ‘cultural taste’ amongst the Ukrainian
Diaspora in Bradford, England 78
Oscar Forero and Graham Smith

- Forum for the Ugly People – study of an imagined community 97
Maria Adamczyk

Part 3 Theory 115

- Sociological analysis and socio-political change: juxtaposing
elements of the work of Bourdieu, Passeron and Lyotard 117
Derek Robbins

Cultivating disconcertment John Law and Wen-yuan Lin	135
Epistemology and the politics of knowledge Celine-Marie Pascale	154
Part 4 Discourse	167
Populist elements in contemporary American political discourse Ritchie Savage	169
Released from gender? Reflexivity, performativity, and therapeutic discourses Kateřina Liřková	189
Embracing dependency: rethinking (in)dependence in the discourse of care Bernhard Weicht	205
Part 5 Social movements	225
Curious cases: small island states' exceptionalism and its contribution to comparative welfare theory Zoë Irving	227
The political-opportunity structure of the Spanish anti-war movement (2002–2004) and its impact Isis Sánchez Estellés	246
Between mobility and mobilization – lifestyle migration and the practice of European identity in political struggles Michael Janoschka	270
Notes on contributors	291
Index	295