

Contents

Acknowledgements	9
------------------------	---

Chapter 1

Introduction	11
---------------------------	----

1.1. Theme and Aim	11
--------------------------	----

1.2. Methodology	13
------------------------	----

1.3. Textual Basis for the Study	16
--	----

1.4. Literature Review	17
------------------------------	----

1.4.1. The Literature of German Speaking Switzerland since 1945	18
--	----

1.4.2. Swiss-German Women Writers	20
---	----

1.4.3. Gertrud Leutenegger's Writing	23
--	----

1.4.4. Vorabend (1975)	28
-------------------------------------	----

1.4.5. Ninive (1977)	31
-----------------------------------	----

1.4.6. Kontinent (1985)	34
--------------------------------------	----

1.4.7. Meduse (1988)	34
-----------------------------------	----

1.4.8. Acheron (1994)	36
------------------------------------	----

1.4.9. Pomona (2004)	36
-----------------------------------	----

1.5. Conclusion	37
-----------------------	----

Chapter 2

“Es ist nicht mystisch; es ist ganz real”	39
--	----

2.1. Schwyz	40
-------------------	----

2.2. Definition of “Catholic”	43
-------------------------------------	----

2.3. Chinese Boxes: Elements of Gertrud Leutenegger's Style	46
--	----

2.4. Conclusion	56
-----------------------	----

Chapter 3

The Authority of the Church	57
3.1. One Point of Entry to the World: Catholic Ritual and Tradition	58
3.2. Men in Black: The Church	63
3.3. Conclusion	68

Chapter 4

Vorabend: The Garden of Eden: Paradise Lost	69
4.1. Love and Sexuality	70
4.1.1. Expulsion from the Garden: Loss of Innocence	71
4.1.2. The Walls of Jasper: Sexual Awareness	76
4.2. Religion: Beyond the Surface Rituals and Tradition	80
4.2.1. Paradise	89
4.3. Conclusion	91

Chapter 5

Ninive: The Catholic Church	93
5.1. The Catholic Church: Powerful Intercessor or Decaying Monster?	94
5.2. Catholicism and the Narrator	100
5.3. Fabrizio: Lover or Guardian Angel?	110
5.4. Conclusion	114

Chapter 6

Kontinent: Journey to the West	115
6.1. Introduction	115
6.2. The Use of Colour	117
6.2.1. Red	117
6.2.2. Blue	119
6.2.3. Black	120
6.3. Religious Awareness	122
6.4. Kontinent as Allegory	124
6.4.1. The “Vorgängerin” and the “Bewässerungsinspektor” ..	125

6.4.2. The China Episodes	126
6.4.3. The “Affenkönig”	129
6.4.4. The Old Woman	130
6.5. Christian Symbolism	131
6.5.1. Water	131
6.5.2. The Eucharist	132
6.5.3. Mistletoe	133
6.5.4. Hawthorn	134
6.6. Conclusion	135

Chapter 7

Meduse: A Woman’s Faith	137
7.1. Introduction	137
7.2. The Medusa	138
7.3. Giuditta’s Story	142
7.4. Fabrizio	150
7.5. Madonna	155
7.6. Christian Symbolism	158
7.7. Conclusion	161

Chapter 8

Acheron: An Odyssey	163
8.1. Introduction	163
8.2. “Der Signor”: Father, Lover or Lord?	164
8.3. Tenko: Sibyl or Siren?	170
8.4. The Ferry: Return to the Upper World	175
8.5. Conclusion	179

Chapter 9

Sphärenklang: Light in the Darkness	181
9.1. Introduction	181
9.2. The Male Voice: The Absence of Love	182
9.3. The Female Voice: A Cry to God	184
9.4. Paradise	186
9.5. Christian Symbolism	188

9.6. The Child: The Promise of New Life	190
9.7. The Mother: Intercessor and Comforter?	192
9.8. Conclusion	194

Chapter 10

Pomona: 'Die Ruhe auf der Flucht'	195
10.1. Introduction	195
10.2. Eve and the Apple	196
10.2.1. Apples: Forbidden Fruit and Love Offering	196
10.2.2. The Narrator's Mother: Eve or Mary?	202
10.3. Paradise	205
10.3.1. Childhood: The Idyllic State	205
10.3.2. Orion: The Fall and Absence of God	207
10.4. Religious Traditions: The Pathway to God	210
10.4.1. The Narrator's Daughter: The Pleiades	211
10.4.2. Christ as Love	212
10.5. Martyrdom: The Pain of Love	215
10.5.1. Agatha and Klara	215
10.5.2. Faith	218
10.6. Pomona : The End of the Journey	220
10.7. Conclusion	222

Chapter Eleven

Conclusion	225
11.1. Introduction	225
11.2. The Institutionalised Church	225
11.3. Catholic Faith	226

References	229
------------------	-----