

Contents

Preface vii

Abbreviations ix

Introduction i

I. Preparing the Drama

I.1. Canonical Weapons: The Church's Regulations on Marriage from the Eighth to the Mid-Ninth Century 11

I.2. A Cause Célèbre: The Divorce Case in the Sources 36

II. A Marital Drama in Six Acts

Act I. Lothar Ascends the Throne and Marries Theutberga, 855–857 51

The Accession: The Political Power of the King and Nobles 52

Lothar's Marriage to Theutberga: Marriage as an Alliance between Noble Families 59

Act II. An Unsuccessful Attempt at Divorce, 857–859 63

The First Attempt at Divorce 65

Ermengarde's Family: The Marriage Alliance Continued in the Children 69

Act III. A Second Attempt at Divorce and the Involvement of Hincmar of Reims, 859–860 73

The Legal Status of Marriage 77

The Powers of the Bishops 86

Hincmar's Rules in Their Political Context 92

Act IV. Lothar's Allies and His Marriage to Waldrada, 860–862	100
The Legal Status of Marriage: The Arguments of Lothar's Bishops	105
The Powers of the Bishops	128
Lothar's Bishops in Their Political Context	130
Alliances and Family Ties	135
Act V. Pope Nicholas Intervenes and Theutberga Is Reinstated, 863–867	149
Pope Nicholas and the Legal Status of Marriage	152
The Powers of the Pope	159
The Success of Nicholas's Claims to Power	164
Act VI. A New Pope and Lothar's Last Battle, 867–869	173
Pope Adrian's Rules for Marriage and His Claims to Power	176
Political Power and the Preservation of Lothar's Realm	179
Epilogue. Lothar's Reputation and His Descendants	182
Appendix 1. Map of Carolingian Europe in the Ninth Century	189
Appendix 2. Genealogies	193
1. The Carolingians
2. The Bosonids
3. The Descendants of Gerard, Count of Paris, and Beggo
4. The Etichonids
5. The Carolingians and Their Relatives, Present at the Treaty of Coblenz (860)
6. The Welfs
Appendix 3. Reigns of the Carolingian Kings	201
Selected Bibliography	203
Index	223