

---

Contents

Maps and Figures xi

Acknowledgments xiii

Preface xv

Note on Nomenclature and Spelling of Place Names xxi

Acronyms xxiii

Plates xxv

PART ONE THE STRAITS OF MALACCA
IN THE MONSOON TRADE SYSTEM:
A CONCEPTUAL OVERVIEW 1

- 1 The Geographic Importance of the Straits of Malacca 3
- 2 Monsoonal Circulation and Revolutions in Shipping and Navigation 10
- 3 Economic-Geographic Concepts of Long-Distance Trade,
Spatial Duopoly, and Network Structures 28
- 4 Concepts and Perspectives from Political Economy 45
- 5 Practical Incentives and the Organization of Early Long-Distance Trade 53

PART TWO THE ROLE OF THE STRAITS
OF MALACCA AS A TRADE GATEWAY 67

- 6 Asian-European Trading Systems in the Greco-Roman Era: The Beginnings of Monsoon Trade 69
- 7 Monsoon Trade in the Early Fifteenth Century: The Empire of Melaka (Malacca) and its Precursors 79
- 8 The Portuguese Trading System in Monsoon Asia 90
- 9 The Dutch Trading System and Holland's Ascendancy in the Straits of Malacca 97
- 10 The British East India Company Trading System 103
- 11 Contemporary Trading Systems: Japan, Oil, and the Straits of Malacca 111

PART THREE THE GATE-KEEPERS 123

- 12 Controlling Transit Trade: The Entrepot of Melaka 125
- 13 The Founding of British Penang (Pulau Pinang) 135
- 14 The Rise of Singapore as a Global Entrepot 141
- 15 Changing Local Hinterlands and Products in the Straits Region: Sumatran Trade 152
- 16 Local Trade Hinterlands and Products on the Malay Coast of the Straits 159

PART FOUR RUNNING THE GAUNTLET: THE STRAITS OF MALACCA AS A TRADE
AND SHIPPING BOTTLENECK 165

- 17 Natural Hazards and Navigation in the Straits of Malacca and Singapore 167
- 18 Piracy in the Straits of Malacca and Surrounding Seas 174
- 19 Twentieth-Century Military Conflicts in the Straits Area 189
- 20 Traffic Congestion, Hazardous Cargoes, and Pollution in the Straits in the Contemporary Period 203

PART FIVE THE FUTURE 211

- 21 Twenty-First-Century Trade and Globalization:
The Asia-Pacific Region 213
- 22 Emerging Roles of the Straits in Global and Regional Commerce 224
- 23 Conclusion 231
- Bibliography 235
- Index 245