

Contents

Foreword by Professor Lawrence O. Gostin	page xi
Acknowledgements	xvii
Introduction	1
 Part I – Basic concepts in public health
Introduction to Part I	9
1 Health, normativity, and politics	11
2 The public, and things being public	24
3 The seven faces of public health	45
4 Public health policy	74
5 Public health law and ethics	83
6 Conclusion to Part I	95
 Part II – Evaluating evaluations: making health public
Introduction to Part II	97
7 Analysis in the political realm	99
8 Making health public	149
9 Conclusion to Part II	202
 Part III – Tackling responsibility: liberal citizens as subjects and sovereigns
Introduction to Part III	205

10	Liberal citizens: defining non-individuated individuals	207
11	Health made public: rights, responsibilities, and shared concerns	235
12	Conclusion	265
	Bibliography	267
	Index	283