

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	vii
List of Contributors	ix
Foreword by Marilyn Deegan and Willard McCarty	xi
1 Collaborative Research in the Digital Humanities Willard McCarty	1
2 No Job for Techies: Technical Contributions to Research in the Digital Humanities John Bradley	11
3 A Collaboration about a Collaboration: The Authorship of King Henry VI, Part Three Hugh Craig and John Burrows	27
4 Collaboration and Dissent: Challenges of Collaborative Standards for Digital Humanities Julia Flanders	67
5 Digital Humanities in the Age of the Internet: Reaching Out to Other Communities Susan Hockey	81
6 Collaboration in Virtual Space in Digital Humanities Laszlo Hunyadi	93
7 Crowd Sourcing ‘True Meaning’: A Collaborative Markup Approach to Textual Interpretation Jan-Christoph Meister	105
8 From Building Site to Building: The Prosopography of Anglo-Saxon England (PASE) Project Janet L. Nelson	123
9 Crowdsourcing the Humanities: Social Research and Collaboration Geoffrey Rockwell	135

10	Why Do We Mark Up Texts? Charlotte Roueché	155
11	Human–Computer Interface/Interaction and the Book: A Consultation-derived Perspective on Foundational E-Book Research Ray Siemens, Teresa Dobson, Stan Ruecker, Richard Cunningham, Alan Galey, Claire Warwick and Lynne Siemens, with Michael Best, Melanie Chernyk, Wendy Duff, Julia Flanders, David Gants, Bertrand Gervais, Karon MacLean, Steve Ramsay, Geoffrey Rockwell, Susan Schreibman, Colin Swindells, Christian Vandendorpe, Lynn Copeland, John Willinsky, Vika Zafrin, the HCI-Book Consultative Group and the INKE Research Team	163
12	The Author’s Hand: From Page to Screen Kathryn Sutherland and Elena Pierazzo	191
13	Being the Other: Interdisciplinary Work in Computational Science and the Humanities Melissa Terras	213
14	Interview with John Unsworth, April 2011, carried out and transcribed by Charlotte Tupman John Unsworth and Charlotte Tupman	231
	Index	241