

Contents

Acknowledgements	x
List of Illustrations	xiii
Conventions	xvii
Glossary	xviii
Abbreviations	xxi
Chapter 1: Introduction	1
• Definitions • Making Ireland English • Structure • The Archives • Historiography •
Part I: The Reconstitution of Ireland's Aristocracy, 1590s–1670s
Chapter 2: The Transformation of the Peerage	27
• Tudor Peerage • Peerage in 1603 • Inflation of Honours • Resident Peerage in 1628 • Resident Peerage in 1641 • Mid-Century Elevations • Mid-Century Creations • Resident Peerage in 1670 and 1685 • Securing the Succession • Conclusion •
Chapter 3: The Transformation of Noble Culture	64
• Nobles in Irish Society • Honour • Contesting and Defending Honour • Conclusion •
Chapter 4: Landed Nobility	84
• Titled Landholders in 1641 and c.1670 • Titled Landholding in County Dublin • Tenure • Plantations • The Munster Plantation • The First Earl of Cork • The Roches and MacCarthys • The Butlers • The Ulster Plantation • The Earls of Antrim • The Informal Plantations • The Formal Plantations • Other Early Stuart Settlements • Conclusion •

Chapter 5: Religion	135
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Catholicism and Kingship • The Catholic Church • Lay Patronage of the Catholic Church • Clerical Connections • Presbyterianism and the Peers • The Church of Ireland and the Peers • Personal Piety • Wardships and Conversions • Sincerity of Conversions • Conclusion •
Chapter 6: Marriage	169
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Women in Stuart Society • Courtship • Frequency of Marriage • Age at Marriage • Geographic Origin of Brides • Mixed Marriages • Social Status of Brides • The Economic Importance of Marriage • Relationships • Conclusion •
Part II: The Peerage in Politics
Chapter 7: Power, Politics and Public Office	211
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Stuart Court • The Exercise of National and Local Power • Law and Order • Conclusion •
Chapter 8: Early Stuart Parliaments	232
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The 1613–15 Parliament • The Graces • The 1634–5 Parliament • The 1640–1 Parliament • The Opposition Peers • Conclusion •
Chapter 9: Civil War	250
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A Military Caste • War in Scotland and Rebellion in Ireland • The Impact of the 1641 Rebellion • The Baronial Context of the Civil Wars • War and Politics • Confederate Catholics • Baronial Leadership • Conclusion •
Chapter 10: Survival	280
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Exile • Reprisals • Catholic Survival • Transplantation • The Case of Antrim • Protestant Survivors • Architects of Restoration • Conclusion •
Chapter 11: The Restoration Land Settlement	301
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A Revolution in Titled Landholding? • The Winners • The Survivors • The Losers • Conclusion •
Chapter 12: Political Life	336
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Irish Parliament, 1661–6 • The Politics behind the Land Settlement • Restoration Dublin • Later Stuart Politics • The Army • James II • Conclusion •

Part III: The Sinews of Power

Chapter 13: Income	361
• Levels of Wealth • Landed Entrepreneurs and Improving Landlords • Urbanization and Commercialization • Overseas Expansionism • Conclusion •
Chapter 14: Expenditure	389
• Levels of Borrowing • Aristocratic Borrowings • Expenditure • Capital Expenditure • Personal and Domestic Expenditure • Legal Expenditure • Conclusion •
Chapter 15: Lineage and Formation	419
• Kinship and Clientage Networks • Children • Schooling and Education • Grand Tours and the Exercise of Arms • Conclusion •
Chapter 16: Death and Memory	448
• Preparing for Death • Cause of Death • Funerals • Memorialization and Posterity • Conclusion •
Chapter 17: Conclusion	475
Notes	483
Appendix I: Lands held by resident titled nobles in 1641, ranked according to size.	572
Appendix II: Office holding and political activity of resident peers, c.1600–c.1690.	575
Appendix III: Military and political activity of resident peers during the 1640s.	599
Appendix IV: Peers recorded in the 1660 poll tax (the so-called '1659 census').	606
Appendix V: Attendance and activity in the House of Lords, 1661–6.	608
Appendix VI: The land settlement and the process of restoration.	614
Select Bibliography	617
Index	628