

Table of contents

Preface	VII
Multilingualism in a standard language culture Ulrike Vogl	1
Section I. Theoretical considerations and historical background
Myths we live and speak by: Ways of imagining and managing language and languages Winifred V. Davies	45
Marching forward into the past: Monolingual multilingualism in contemporary political theory Yael Peled	71
Language and ethnicity in a European context Harald Haarmann	97
Section II. Case-studies: The changing relationship between standard languages and other varieties
Multilingual speakers in a monolingual society: From the history and present state of language planning in Iceland Alexander Haselow	127
Multilingualism and standardization in Greece Peter Mackridge	153
The development of Finnish into a national language Mirja Saari	179
Traces of monolingual and plurilingual ideologies in the history of language policies in France Georges Lüdi	205

Centripetal and centrifugal forces in the sociolinguistic configuration of the Iberian Peninsula	231
K. Anipa
Dutch in Belgium: Facing multilingualism in a context of regional monolingualism and Standard Language Ideology	259
Johan De Caluwe
The Caucasus: Scenarios of ethnic conflict and trajectories of standardization	283
Harald Haarmann
Multilingualism and the disputed standardizations of Macedonian and Moldovan	309
Matthew H. Ciscel
Name index	329
Language index	331
Index of geographical names	333
Subject index	335