

C Contents

|                   |       |
|-------------------|-------|
| Preface           | xix   |
| Acknowledgments   | xxv   |
| About the Authors | xxvii |

|                  |   |           |
|------------------|---|-----------|
| Part 1    | The Economic Way of Thinking   | 1  |
| Chapter 1 | The Economic Approach  | 2  |
|                  | What Is Economics About?   | 4  |
|                  | Scarcity and Poverty Are Not the Same  | 5         |
|                  | Scarcity Necessitates Rationing  | 6         |
|                  | The Method of Rationing Influences the Nature of Competition                         | 6         |
|                  | The Economic Way of Thinking   | 7  |
|                  | Eight Guideposts to Economic Thinking  | 7         |
|                  | Positive and Normative Economics   | 13 |
|                  | Pitfalls to Avoid in Economic Thinking   | 13 |
|                  | Violation of the Ceteris Paribus Condition Can Lead One to Draw the Wrong Conclusion | 13        |
|                  | Good Intentions Do Not Guarantee Desirable Outcomes                                  | 14        |
|                  | Association Is Not Causation   | 15        |
|                  | The Fallacy of Composition: What's True for One Might Not Be True for All            | 15        |
|                  | Looking Ahead  | 15 |
|                  | Key Points   | 16 |
|                  | Critical Analysis Questions  | 16 |
|                  | Problems and Projects  | 17 |
|                  | Perspectives in Economics  | 18 |
| Chapter 2 | Some Tools of the Economist  | 20 |
|                  | What Shall We Give Up?   | 21 |
|                  | Opportunity Cost   | 21        |
|                  | Opportunity Cost and the Real World  | 22        |
|                  | Trade Creates Value  | 23 |
|                  | Transaction Costs—A Barrier to Trade   | 24        |
|                  | The Middleman as a Cost Reducer  | 24        |
|                  | The Importance of Property Rights  | 25 |
|                  | Private Ownership and Markets  | 28        |
|                  | Production Possibilities Curve   | 30 |
|                  | Shifting the Production Possibilities Curve Outward                                  | 32        |
|                  | Production Possibilities and Economic Growth   | 34        |
|                  | Trade, Output, and Living Standards  | 34 |
|                  | Gains from Specialization and Division of Labor                                      | 34        |
|                  | Gains from Mass Production Methods   | 36        |
|                  | Gains from Innovation  | 36        |
|                  | Human Ingenuity and the Creation of Wealth   | 36 |
|                  | Economic Organization  | 37 |
|                  | Market Organization  | 37        |
|                  | Political Organization   | 37        |
|                  | Looking Ahead  | 38 |
|                  | Key Points   | 38 |
|                  | Critical Analysis Questions  | 39 |
|                  | Problems and Projects  | 39 |
|                  | Perspectives in Economics  | 43 |
|                  | Addendum   | 44 |
|                  | Comparative Advantage, Specialization, and Gains from Trade                          | 44        |

|                  |  |            |
|------------------|--|------------|
| Part 2    | Markets and Government  | 49  |
| <hr/>            |  |            |
| Chapter 3 | Supply, Demand, and the Market Process  | 50  |
|                  | Consumer Choice and the Law of Demand   | 52  |
|                  | The Market Demand Schedule  | 52         |
|                  | Consumer Surplus  | 53         |
|                  | Responsiveness of Quantity Demanded to Price Changes: Elastic and Inelastic Demand Curves | 55         |
|                  | Changes in Demand versus Changes in Quantity Demanded                                     | 56  |
|                  | Producer Choice and the Law of Supply   | 60  |
|                  | The Role of Profits and Losses  | 60         |
|                  | Supply and the Entrepreneur   | 61         |
|                  | Market Supply Schedule  | 61         |
|                  | Producer Surplus  | 62         |
|                  | Responsiveness of Quantity Supplied to Price Changes: Elastic and Inelastic Supply Curves | 63         |
|                  | Changes in Supply versus Changes in Quantity Supplied                                     | 64  |
|                  | How Market Prices Are Determined: Supply and Demand Interact                              | 66  |
|                  | Market Equilibrium  | 66         |
|                  | Efficiency and Market Equilibrium   | 68         |
|                  | How Markets Respond to Changes in Demand and Supply                                       | 69  |
|                  | Invisible Hand Principle  | 72         |
|                  | Prices and Market Order   | 73         |
|                  | Competition and Property Rights   | 74         |
|                  | Looking Ahead   | 74  |
|                  | Key Points  | 75  |
|                  | Critical Analysis Questions   | 75  |
|                  | Problems and Projects   | 76  |
|                  | Perspectives in Economics   | 79  |
| Chapter 4 | Supply and Demand: Applications and Extensions  | 83  |
|                  | The Link between Resource and Product Markets   | 84  |
|                  | The Economics of Price Controls   | 86  |
|                  | The Impact of Price Ceilings  | 86         |
|                  | Rent Control: A Closer Look at a Price Ceiling  | 88         |
|                  | The Impact of Price Floors  | 89         |
|                  | Minimum Wage: A Closer Look at a Price Floor  | 90         |
|                  | Black Markets and the Importance of the Legal Structure                                   | 92  |
|                  | The Impact of a Tax   | 93  |
|                  | The Deadweight Loss Caused by Taxes   | 94         |
|                  | Actual versus Statutory Incidence   | 95         |
|                  | Elasticity and the Incidence of a Tax   | 95         |
|                  | Elasticity and the Deadweight Loss  | 97         |
|                  | Tax Rates, Tax Revenues, and the Laffer Curve   | 98  |
|                  | The Impact of a Subsidy   | 101 |
|                  | Elasticity and the Benefit of Government Subsidy Programs                                 | 102        |
|                  | Real-World Subsidy Programs   | 103        |
|                  | Looking Ahead   | 104 |
|                  | Key Points  | 104 |
|                  | Critical Analysis Questions   | 105 |
|                  | Problems and Projects   | 105 |
|                  | Perspectives in Economics   | 109 |
| Chapter 5 | Difficult Cases for the Market, and the Role of Government                                | 112 |
|                  | A Closer Look at Economic Efficiency  | 113 |
|                  | If It's Worth Doing, It's Worth Doing Imperfectly   | 114 |
|                  | Thinking about the Economic Role of Government  | 115 |
|                  | Protective Function of Government   | 115        |
|                  | Productive Function of Government   | 116        |
|                  | Potential Shortcomings of the Market  | 116 |
|                  | Lack of Competition   | 116        |
|                  | Externalities—A Failure to Account for All Costs and Benefits                             | 118        |

|                  |   |            |
|------------------|---|------------|
|                  | External Costs   | 118        |
|                  | External Benefits  | 119        |
|                  | Public Goods and Why They Pose a Problem for the Market                                      | 122        |
|                  | Potential Information Problems   | 123        |
|                  | Information as a Profit Opportunity  | 124        |
|                  | Market and Government Failure  | 126 |
|                  | Looking Ahead  | 126 |
|                  | Key Points   | 126 |
|                  | Critical Analysis Questions  | 127 |
|                  | Problems and Projects  | 127 |
| Chapter 6 | The Economics of Collective Decision-Making  | 130 |
|                  | The Size and Growth of the U.S. Government   | 131 |
|                  | Similarities and Differences between Governments and Markets                                 | 133 |
|                  | Political Decision-Making: An Overview   | 135 |
|                  | Incentives Confronted by the Voter   | 135        |
|                  | Incentives Confronted by the Politician  | 136        |
|                  | Incentives Confronted by the Government Bureaucrat   | 137        |
|                  | When the Political Process Works Well  | 137 |
|                  | When the Political Process Works Poorly  | 140 |
|                  | Special-Interest Effect  | 140        |
|                  | Shortsightedness Effect  | 143        |
|                  | Rent-seeking   | 144        |
|                  | Inefficiency of Government Operations  | 145        |
|                  | Political Favoritism, Crony Capitalism, and Government Failure                               | 145 |
|                  | The Economic Way of Thinking about Markets and Government                                    | 148 |
|                  | Looking Ahead  | 149 |
|                  | Key Points   | 149 |
|                  | Critical Analysis Questions  | 150 |
|                  | Problems and Projects  | 150 |
| Part 3    | Core Microeconomics  | 153 |
| Chapter 7 | Consumer Choice and Elasticity   | 154 |
|                  | Fundamentals of Consumer Choice  | 155 |
|                  | Marginal Utility, Consumer Choice, and the Demand Curve of an Individual                     | 156 |
|                  | Consumer Equilibrium with Many Goods   | 158        |
|                  | Price Changes and Consumer Choice  | 159        |
|                  | Time Costs and Consumer Choice   | 159        |
|                  | Market Demand Reflects the Demand of Individual Consumers                                    | 160        |
|                  | Elasticity of Demand   | 161 |
|                  | Graphic Representation of Price Elasticity of Demand   | 162        |
|                  | How Large Are the Demand Elasticities of Various Products?                                   | 164        |
|                  | Why Do the Price Elasticities of Demand Vary?  | 164        |
|                  | Time and Demand Elasticity   | 166        |
|                  | How Demand Elasticity and Price Changes Affect Total Expenditures (or Revenues) on a Product | 167 |
|                  | Income Elasticity  | 168 |
|                  | Price Elasticity of Supply   | 169 |
|                  | Looking Ahead  | 169 |
|                  | Key Points   | 169 |
|                  | Critical Analysis Questions  | 170 |
|                  | Problems and Projects  | 170 |
| Chapter 8 | Costs and the Supply of Goods  | 176 |
|                  | The Organization of the Business Firm  | 177 |
|                  | Incentives, Cooperation, and the Nature of the Firm  | 177        |
|                  | Three Types of Business Firms  | 178        |

|                   |   |            |
|-------------------|---|------------|
|                   | Costs, Competition, and the Corporation                | 179 |
|                   | How Well Does the Corporate Structure Work?            | 181        |
|                   | The Economic Role of Costs                             | 181 |
|                   | Calculating Economic Costs and Profits                 | 181        |
|                   | How Do Economic and Accounting Profit Differ?          | 182        |
|                   | Short-Run and Long-Run Time Periods                    | 183 |
|                   | Categories of Costs                                    | 183 |
|                   | Output and Costs in the Short Run                      | 185 |
|                   | Diminishing Returns and Production in the Short Run    | 185        |
|                   | Diminishing Returns and the Shape of the Cost Curves   | 186        |
|                   | Output and Costs in the Long Run                       | 188 |
|                   | Economies and Diseconomies of Scale                    | 190        |
|                   | Alternative Shapes of the LRATC                        | 192        |
|                   | What Factors Cause Cost Curves to Shift?               | 192 |
|                   | Prices of Resources                                    | 192        |
|                   | Taxes  | 192        |
|                   | Regulations  | 193        |
|                   | Technology   | 194        |
|                   | The Economic Way of Thinking about Costs               | 195 |
|                   | What Are Sunk Costs?                                   | 195        |
|                   | How Will Cost Influence Supply?                        | 196        |
|                   | Looking Ahead  | 196 |
|                   | Key Points   | 197 |
|                   | Critical Analysis Questions                            | 197 |
|                   | Problems and Projects                                  | 198 |
|                   | Perspectives in Economics                              | 200 |
| Chapter 9  | Price Takers and the Competitive Process               | 203 |
|                   | Price Takers and Price Searchers                       | 204 |
|                   | What Are the Characteristics of Price-Taker Markets?   | 205 |
|                   | How Does the Price Taker Maximize Profit?              | 206 |
|                   | Profit Maximizing—A Numeric Example                    | 207        |
|                   | Losses and When to Go Out of Business                  | 208        |
|                   | The Firm's Short-Run Supply Curve                      | 210 |
|                   | The Short-Run Market Supply Curve                      | 211 |
|                   | Price and Output in Price-Taker Markets                | 211 |
|                   | Long-Run Equilibrium                                   | 211        |
|                   | How Will the Market Respond to an Increase in Demand?  | 213        |
|                   | How Will the Market Respond to a Decrease in Demand?   | 213        |
|                   | The Long-Run Market Supply Curve                       | 215        |
|                   | Supply Elasticity and the Role of Time                 | 217        |
|                   | The Role of Profits and Losses                         | 217 |
|                   | Competition Promotes Prosperity                        | 218 |
|                   | Looking Ahead  | 219 |
|                   | Key Points   | 220 |
|                   | Critical Analysis Questions                            | 220 |
|                   | Problems and Projects                                  | 221 |
| Chapter 10 | Price-Searcher Markets with Low Entry Barriers         | 227 |
|                   | Competitive Price-Searcher Markets                     | 228 |
|                   | Price and Output in Competitive Price-Searcher Markets | 228        |
|                   | Contestable Markets and the Competitive Process        | 231 |
|                   | Evaluating Competitive Price-Searcher Markets          | 232 |
|                   | A Special Case: Price Discrimination                   | 234 |
|                   | Entrepreneurship and Economic Progress                 | 237 |
|                   | Dynamic Competition, Innovation, and Business Failures | 238        |
|                   | Looking Ahead  | 241 |
|                   | Key Points   | 241 |
|                   | Critical Analysis Questions                            | 241 |
|                   | Problems and Projects                                  | 243 |

|                   |  |            |
|-------------------|--|------------|
| Chapter 11 | Price-Searcher Markets with High Entry Barriers               | 246 |
|                   | Why Are Entry Barriers Sometimes High?                        | 247 |
|                   | Economies of Scale  | 247        |
|                   | Government Licensing and Other Legal Barriers to Entry        | 247        |
|                   | Patents   | 248        |
|                   | Control Over an Essential Resource                            | 248        |
|                   | Characteristics of a Monopoly                                 | 248 |
|                   | Price and Output under Monopoly                               | 249        |
|                   | The Characteristics of an Oligopoly                           | 251 |
|                   | Interdependence among Oligopolistic Firms                     | 251        |
|                   | Substantial Economies of Scale                                | 252        |
|                   | Significant Barriers to Entry                                 | 252        |
|                   | Identical or Differentiated Products                          | 252        |
|                   | Price and Output under Oligopoly                              | 253 |
|                   | The Incentive to Collude . . . and to Cheat                   | 254        |
|                   | Obstacles to Collusion  | 255        |
|                   | Uncertainty and Oligopoly                                     | 256        |
|                   | Market Power and Profit—The Early Bird Catches the Worm       | 258 |
|                   | Defects of Markets with High Entry Barriers                   | 258 |
|                   | Policy Alternatives When Entry Barriers Are High              | 259 |
|                   | Antitrust Policy and Controlling the Structure of an Industry | 260        |
|                   | Reduce Artificial Barriers to Trade                           | 260        |
|                   | Regulate the Price  | 261        |
|                   | Problems with Regulation                                      | 262        |
|                   | Supply Market with Government Production                      | 263        |
|                   | Pulling It Together   | 263        |
|                   | The Competitive Process in the Real World                     | 264 |
|                   | Looking Ahead   | 265 |
|                   | Key Points  | 265 |
|                   | Critical Analysis Questions                                   | 266 |
|                   | Problems and Projects   | 266 |
|                   | Perspectives in Economics                                     | 270 |
| Chapter 12 | The Supply of and Demand for Productive Resources             | 274 |
|                   | Human and Nonhuman Resources                                  | 276 |
|                   | The Demand for Resources                                      | 276 |
|                   | Substitution in Production                                    | 277        |
|                   | Substitution in Consumption                                   | 277        |
|                   | How Time Changes the Demand for Resources                     | 278        |
|                   | Shifts in the Demand for a Resource                           | 278        |
|                   | Marginal Productivity and the Firm's Hiring Decision          | 280 |
|                   | Using a Variable Resource with a Fixed Resource               | 280        |
|                   | MRP and the Firm's Demand Curve for a Resource                | 282        |
|                   | Multiple Resources and How Much to Use of Each                | 282        |
|                   | Maximizing Profits When Multiple Resources Are Used           | 283        |
|                   | Cost Minimization When Multiple Resources Are Used            | 283        |
|                   | The Supply of Resources                                       | 284 |
|                   | Short-Run versus Long-Run Resource Supply                     | 285        |
|                   | Short-Run Supply  | 285        |
|                   | Long-Run Supply   | 286        |
|                   | Supply, Demand, and Resource Prices                           | 287 |
|                   | The Coordinating Function of Resource Prices                  | 289        |
|                   | Looking Ahead   | 289 |
|                   | Key Points  | 289 |
|                   | Critical Analysis Questions                                   | 290 |
|                   | Problems and Projects   | 290 |
| Chapter 13 | Earnings, Productivity, and the Job Market                    | 294 |
|                   | Why Do Earnings Differ?                                       | 295 |
|                   | Earnings Differentials Due to Nonidentical Workers            | 295        |
|                   | Earnings Differentials Due to Nonidentical Jobs               | 299        |

|                   |   |            |
|-------------------|---|------------|
|                   | Earnings Differentials Due to the Immobility of Labor            | 300        |
|                   | Sources of Wage Differentials: A Summary                         | 300        |
|                   | The Economics of Employment Discrimination                       | 302 |
|                   | How Much Impact Does Employment Discrimination Have on Earnings? | 303        |
|                   | The Link between Productivity and Earnings                       | 304 |
|                   | Productivity, Wages, and the Computer Revolution                 | 306        |
|                   | Looking Ahead  | 307 |
|                   | Key Points   | 308 |
|                   | Critical Analysis Questions                                      | 308 |
|                   | Problems and Projects  | 309 |
|                   | Perspectives in Economics  | 310 |
| Chapter 14 | Investment, the Capital Market, and the Wealth of Nations        | 312 |
|                   | Why People Invest  | 313 |
|                   | Interest Rates   | 314 |
|                   | How Interest Rates Are Determined                                | 314        |
|                   | The Money Rate versus the Real Rate of Interest                  | 316        |
|                   | Interest Rates and Risk  | 316        |
|                   | The Present Value of Future Income and Costs                     | 317 |
|                   | Present Value, Profitability, and Investment                     | 319 |
|                   | Expected Future Earnings and Asset Values                        | 320        |
|                   | Investors and Corporate Investments                              | 320        |
|                   | Investing in Human Capital                                       | 321 |
|                   | Uncertainty, Entrepreneurship, and Profit                        | 322 |
|                   | Returns to Physical and Human Capital                            | 324        |
|                   | Why Is the Capital Market So Important?                          | 325 |
|                   | Looking Ahead  | 327 |
|                   | Key Points   | 327 |
|                   | Critical Analysis Questions                                      | 327 |
|                   | Problems and Projects  | 328 |
|                   | Perspectives in Economics  | 329 |
| Chapter 15 | Income Inequality and Poverty                                    | 331 |
|                   | How Much Income Inequality Exists in the United States?          | 332 |
|                   | The Factors Affecting Income Distribution                        | 333        |
|                   | Why Has Income Inequality Increased?                             | 336        |
|                   | Income Mobility and Inequality in Economic Status                | 337 |
|                   | Poverty in the United States                                     | 339 |
|                   | Transfer Payments and the Poverty Rate                           | 341        |
|                   | Estimating the Costs of Redistribution                           | 344        |
|                   | Income Inequality: Some Concluding Thoughts                      | 344 |
|                   | Looking Ahead  | 347 |
|                   | Key Points   | 347 |
|                   | Critical Analysis Questions                                      | 348 |
|                   | Problems and Projects  | 348 |
| Part 4     | International Economics  | 351 |
| Chapter 16 | Gaining from International Trade                                 | 352 |
|                   | The Trade Sector of the United States                            | 353 |
|                   | Gains from Specialization and Trade                              | 354 |
|                   | How Trade Expands Consumption Possibilities                      | 356        |
|                   | Some Real-World Considerations                                   | 358        |
|                   | Supply, Demand, and International Trade                          | 359 |
|                   | The Economics of Trade Restrictions                              | 361 |
|                   | The Economics of Tariffs   | 361        |
|                   | The Economics of Quotas  | 363        |
|                   | Exchange Rate Controls as a Trade Restriction                    | 364        |
|                   | Why Do Nations Adopt Trade Restrictions?                         | 365 |

|   |            |
|---|------------|
| The National-Defense Argument  | 365        |
| The Infant-Industry Argument   | 365        |
| The Antidumping Argument   | 365        |
| Special Interests and the Politics of Trade Restrictions   | 367        |
| Trade Barriers and Popular Trade Fallacies   | 368 |
| Trade Fallacy 1: Trade Restrictions That Limit Imports Save Jobs and Expand Employment                       | 368        |
| Trade Fallacy 2: Free Trade with Low-Wage Countries Like Mexico and China Will Reduce the Wages of Americans | 369        |
| The Changing Nature of Global Trade  | 369 |
| GATT and the WTO   | 369        |
| NAFTA and Other Regional Trade Agreements  | 370        |
| The Future of Free Trade   | 371        |
| Looking Ahead  | 371 |
| Key Points   | 371 |
| Critical Analysis Questions  | 372 |
| Problems and Projects  | 372 |
| Perspectives in Economics  | 375 |

---

Part 5    Applying the Basics: Special Topics in Economics    377

---

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Special Topic 1: Government Spending and Taxation  | 378 |
| Special Topic 2: The Economics of Social Security  | 395 |
| Special Topic 3: The Stock Market: Its Function, Performance, and Potential as an Investment Opportunity | 407 |
| Special Topic 4: Great Debates in Economics: Keynes versus Hayek   | 418 |
| Special Topic 5: The Crisis of 2008: Causes and Lessons for the Future                                   | 426 |
| Special Topic 6: Lessons from the Great Depression   | 443 |
| Special Topic 7: The Economics of Health Care  | 457 |
| Special Topic 8: Education: Problems and Performance   | 469 |
| Special Topic 9: Earnings Differences Between Men and Women  | 480 |
| Special Topic 10: Do Labor Unions Increase the Wages of Workers?   | 489 |
| Special Topic 11: The Question of Resource Exhaustion  | 501 |
| Special Topic 12: Difficult Environmental Cases and the Role of Government                               | 513 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Appendix A General Business and Economics Indicators for the United States | 523 |
| Appendix B Answers to Critical Analysis Questions                          | 531 |
| Glossary   | 545 |
| Index  | 557 |