

Contents

Renate von Bardeleben, Sabina Matter-Seibel, Klaus H. Schmidt

Introduction vii

Juan Bruce-Novoa

The Rhetorics of Latino Survival in the U.S.: 1528-1961..... 1

Vincent Carretta

Revising One's Self: Constructing
Phillis Wheatley's Anglophone-African Identity 33

Udo J. Hebel

"Not a story to pass on"? The Pluralization of American Memory in Historical Dramas by Harlem Renaissance Women Playwrights 51

Charles T. Johnson

Dr. Charles J. Hexamer: Forgotten German-American Leader 67

Barbara Buchenau

Ethnic Performance and the Self-Representation of Frederick Philip Grove 81

Laura Hapke

Red Scares, Ethnicity, and the Jungle of Working-Class Desire in the 1920s Novels of Theodore Dreiser and Upton Sinclair 97

Elke Kinkel

Thomas Mann in America: A Privileged German's (Ethnic) Survival 107

Alvin H. Rosenfeld

Translating Atrocity 121

Harald Leder

Changing People's Minds? American Reorientation in Germany After World War II.....	131
---	-----

John Purdy

Autoethnography and Issues of Representation in the Post-Indian Era	151
--	-----

Sabina Matter-Seibel

Aliens, Translators, Native Speakers: Language and Identity in Asian-American Fiction	163
--	-----

Maren Dingfelder Stone

Tulips, Windmills, and Wooden Shoes: Dutch-American Festive Culture as a Means of Ethnic Survival?.....	181
--	-----

Horst Tonn

Ethnic Interventions: Hollywood Film and the New Multiculturalism.....	197
---	-----

Justine Dymond

Ethnic Mysteries: Genre, "Race," and the Power of Law	215
---	-----

Edgars Ošiņš

Multicultural Canada: Two First Nations Voices.....	223
---	-----

Suzanne Ferriss

Hybrid Subjectivities: Sexuality, Race, and Ethnicity	235
---	-----

Contributors.....	247
-------------------	-----

Index.....	251
------------	-----