

Contents

---

List of contributors	vi
Introduction	viii
1 Bowie's management ethics: an alternate view Richard T. De George	1
2 Revisiting the egoism question in business Ronald Duska	18
3 Bowie's ethics: a pragmatist perspective R. Edward Freeman	35
4 Norman Bowie's kingdom of worldly satisficers Patricia H. Werhane	48
5 Corporate duties of virtue: making (Kantian) sense of corporate social responsibility Jeffery Smith	58
6 Bowie's Kantian capitalism, high-leverage finance capitalism and the Great Recession Richard P. Nielsen	76
7 Citizens, Kant and corporate responsibility for the environment Marc A. Cohen and John W. Dienhart	96
8 Worthy work and Bowie's Kantian theory of meaningful work Joanne B. Ciulla	115
9 Meaningful work Joseph R. DesJardins	132
10 Should every manager become a Kantian? The empirical evidence and normative implications of the Kantian personality in organizations Scott J. Reynolds and Carolyn T. Dang	148
11 A reply to my critics Norman E. Bowie	175
Index	191