

CONTENTS

PREFACE	vii
LIST OF MAPS	xvii
NOTE ON DATES, SPELLING AND MEASURES	xix

PART ONE EIGHTEENTH-CENTURY RUSSIA

I. POLITICAL AND SOCIAL FORCES
The Growth of the Russian State	i
Autocracy and Nobility	10
The People	21
The Church	29
Education, Ideas, and Culture	35
II. RUSSIA AS A GREAT POWER
Foreign Policy after Peter	41
Regions and Peoples of Russia	51
The Caucasus and Transcaucasia	57
The Reign of Paul I	62

PART TWO THE ALEXANDRINE AGE

III. REFORM AND RESISTANCE
The Unofficial Committee	69
Foreign Policy, 1801-1807	83
The Rise and Fall of Speransky	96
Alexander and Napoleon, 1807-1812	113
IV. WAR AND PEACE
The War of 1812	127
The Liberation of Europe	142
V. THE AFTERMATH
The Age of Arakcheyev	153
Education and Ideas	164
The Kingdom of Poland	172
The Concert of Europe	174
The Decembrists	183

PART THREE THE GENDARME OF EUROPE

VI. GOVERNMENT
The Ruler	199
Central Government	202
The Administration	208
Religious Policy	214
Education	218
VII. SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT
The Problem of Serfdom	227
The Peasants	230
The Government and the Peasants	234
The Nobility	239
The Urban Classes	241
Economic Policy	245
VIII. IDEAS AND MOVEMENTS
Literature and Censorship	250
Westernizers and Slavophiles	256
Russian Nationalism and Pan-Slavism	267
The Last Years	274
IX. FOREIGN RELATIONS
The War with Poland	281
Expansion in Asia	289
The War with Turkey and Greek Independence	297
Egypt, Turkey, and the Straits	302
The European Revolutions	311
The Sick Man of Europe	316
The Crimean War	319

PART FOUR
THE TSAR LIBERATOR

X. THE GREAT REFORMS
The Emperor	332
The Decision to abolish Serfdom	334
The Machinery of the Reform	337
The Emancipation	341

CONTENTS

xv

Regional Self-Government	348
Judicial Reform	354
Education	357
Political Movements	361
The Polish Rebellion	370

XI. FROM DISENCHANTMENT TO ASSASSINATION

Government and Administration	378
Culture	390
Rural Society after Emancipation	393
Industry, Trade, and Finance	404
The Nationalities	409
The Revolutionary Movement	418

XII. FOREIGN POLICY

Russia and the Powers, 1856-1870	430
Expansion in Asia	438
Pan-Slavism and the Balkans, 1875-1878	445

PART FIVE

THE AGE OF COUNTER-REFORM

XIII. GOVERNMENT

Men and Measures	461
Education and Culture	474
Russification	485

XIV. SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT

Agriculture	506
The National Economy	517
Social Classes	534

XV. POLITICAL MOVEMENTS

The New Reign	547
Marxism	550
Liberalism	553
The Socialist Revolutionaries	557
Political Parties in Action	560

XVI. FOREIGN POLICY

The Franco-Russian Alliance	567
The Far East	579

PART SIX
FROM REVOLUTION TO REVOLUTION

XVII. THE DAYS OF LIBERTY
The Revolution of 1905	598
The Nationalist Movements	607
The First and Second Dumas	613
XVIII. THE AGE OF STOLYPIN
Semi-Constitutional Politics	628
Economic Development	649
Nationalism	663
XIX. FOREIGN POLICY
Russia, France, and Germany	677
Russia and Britain	679
Russia, Japan, and America	682
Russia, Germany, and Sweden	684
Russia, Austria, and the Slavs	686
The Balkans and the Great Powers, 1908-1914	689
XX. THE END OF THE MONARCHY
The First World War	698
The February Revolution	723
CONCLUSIONS	728
BIBLIOGRAPHY	743
INDEX	783