

CONTENTS

Preface	7
---------------	---

I. Knowledge and Cognition

Robert Stecker Literature as Thought.....	11
---	----

Wolfgang Huemer Cognitive Dimensions of Achieving (and Failing) in Literature	26
---	----

Daniel Hartenstein The Cognitive Value of Fictional Names.....	45
--	----

Peter Lamarque Thought Theory and Literary Cognition.....	67
---	----

Tilmann Köppe On Making and Understanding Imaginative Experiences in Our Engagement with Fictional Narratives	81
--	----

Eva-Maria Konrad Why No One's Afraid of Stanley Fish – On Panfictionalism and Knowledge.....	96
---	----

Maria E. Reicher Knowledge from Fiction	114
---	-----

II. Meaning and Interpretation

Oliver Scholz

On the Very Idea of a Textual Meaning 135

Thomas Petraschka

Locating Literary Meaning.

A Formal Framework for a Philological Principle of Charity 146

Barbara MacMahon

How Literature Communicates: a Cognitive Pragmatic Perspective..... 166

Eileen John

Literature, Pluralism, and the Critique of Evaluative Concepts 187

Christiana Werner

On Referring to Ferraris –

The Act of Reference and Predication in Fictional Discourse..... 204

Vittorio Hösle

Nine Reductionisms in Hermeneutics as Nine Ways of Unilaterally

Focusing on Single Moments in the Process of Understanding..... 220

Contributors 238