

Contents

9	Introduction: Indiscretions At the Sex/Culture Divide	Murat Aydemir
31	Part One: Gay Holiday Cruises
33	Subaltern Looks and the Imperial Gaze: Charles Warren Stoddard's South Sea Idyls	Jeffrey Geiger
53	The Orient of Critique: Ambivalence about the East in Wilde and Gide	Merrill Cole
75	Quempire : A Loiterly Journey into Heart of Darkness	Jonathan Mitchell and Michael O'Rourke
97	Pleasures of the Orient: Cadinot's Maghreb as Gay Male Pornotopia	Jaap Kooljman
113	Part Two: Rearticulations of Sex/Race
115	The Double Nature of the Love Triangle: Sedgwick, Greene, Achebe	Beth Kramer
129	Of Passing and Other Cures: Arjan Ederveen's Born in the Wrong Body and the Cultural Construction of Essentialism	Maalke Bleeker
143	The Refusal of Migrant Subjectivity: Queer Times and Spaces in Hanif Kureishi's The Buddha of Suburbia	Rebecca Fine Romanow
161	Blood Brothers	Murat Aydemir
183	Part Three: Queer Nations
185	Lesbian Representation and Postcolonial Allegory	Anikó Imre
203	"Just to See": Fanon, National Consciousness, and the Indiscreet Look in Post-Third Cinema	Lindsey Green-Simms
225	What can Queer Theory Learn from Feminism in India?: Reversing Epistemological Frames	Nishant Shahani
243	Weaving a Different Kind of Tartan: Musicality, Spectrality, and Kinship in Jackie Kay's Trumpet	Ryan D. Fong
265	Contributors
269	Index	