

CONTENTS

List of Tables xii

List of Figures xiv

Note on Transliteration and Orthography xv

Note on Monetary Units xvii

1 Setting the Scene 1

Terminology: The Definition of Poverty 4

What Precisely Are We Trying to Establish? 5

Sources 8

2 Migration of the Poor 13

Introduction 13

Evolving Policy on Admission and Relief of the Poor 16

Where Did the Poor Come From? 20

The Journey to Amsterdam from the Iberian Peninsula 22

The Route: From Portugal, from Spain, and from France to Amsterdam 24

Funding the Journey 28

The Journey to Amsterdam from Other Regions 31

Italy 31

North Africa 33

South-eastern Europe and the Levant 34

The New World 37

Hamburg and Antwerp 38

Emigration from Amsterdam 39

Pressure on Migrants to Move On 41

Destinations and Numbers 47

Female Migration 53

The Migration Balance 58

3 Demographic Outline 61

Introduction 61

The Scope of Poor Relief 62

Financial Strength 67

Family Composition 72

Conclusion 75

4 The Organization of Welfare 77

Introduction 77

The Theory: Modern Elements in a Traditional Approach 78

Centralization versus Private Initiatives 78

Selective Poor Relief 80

Criteria for Granting Poor Relief 82

Procedures: Petitions and Lots 92

Domiciliary versus Institutional Care 94

Poor Relief in Practice: Communal and Private Provision 95

Communal Care 96

Education of Paupers 97

Care of Orphans 102

Care of Paupers in Sickness and Death 108

Distribution of Clothing 111

Loans and the Portuguese Variant of the Monte di Pietà 113

The Abodat Ahesed Society and the Workhouse for Ashkenazim 117

Shelter for Strangers 121

Other Forms of Organized Private Poor Relief 123

The Kahal's Response to Private Charitable Initiatives 133

Conclusion 134

5 Financing Charity 136

The Public Sector 136

Income and Expenditure 136

Reforms to the Financial System 144

Tax Increases and their Effect 145

The Creation of a Reserve Fund 147

Cost-Cutting Measures 148

The Private Sector 152

The Contribution of Individuals to Public Poor Relief 152

Private Support for Hevrot 153

Direct Assistance to Paupers by Individuals 155

The Scope of Charitable Bequests 156

Conclusion 157

6 The Motives behind Charity 159

Charity Sustained by Piety 159

Inspiration in Action 166

The Family as the Main Object of Charity 171

The Civic Sense, Trust, and Charitable Gifts 175

Prestige 178

Social Concern and Mutual Responsibility 180

Conclusion 184

7 The Daily Life of the Poor 187

Introduction 187

Housing 189

Money and Work 192

Appeals for Help: Petitions 202

The Level of Poor Relief 207

Protest and Misbehaviour 212

Life on the Fringe 216

Networks of Crime 218

Solidarity 222

Conclusion: A Motley Crowd 223

8 Epilogue 226

Appendices 231

I Tables 231

II Figures 253

III Four Biographical Studies 257

Glossary of Terms and Names 261

Notes 269

Archives Consulted 489

Bibliography 505

Index of Persons 547

Index of Subjects 569