

Contents

Preface	vii
----------------	-----

SECTION A

I. The Growth of the Economy	3
Dimensions – sources of growth – innovation and structural change – retardation before 1914 – the inter-war years
II. The Business Cycle	23
The periodicity and amplitude of cycles – the role of exports – innovations, technical progress and the cycle – building and economic fluctuations – monetary factors – random shocks – conclusions
III. International Aspects	62
Introduction – commodity exports – the costs and benefits of free trade – foreign investment – the international monetary system

SECTION B

1. Retardation in Britain's Industrial Growth, 1870-1913.	101
2. The Problem of Productivity in British Industry, 1870-1914	126
3. The Entrepreneur and the British Economy, 1870-1914	141
4. Technical Progress and British Enterprise, 1875-1914	168
5. Over-commitment in Britain before 1930	190
6. Economic Progress in Britain in the 1920s	219
7. The Basis of Economic Recovery in the 1930s	239
8. The New Industries Between the Wars	264

SECTION C

Guide to Statistical Sources	291
National income and expenditure – consumption – investment – production and productivity – population and employment – wages, prices and cost of living – international trade – international comparisons

SECTION D

Bibliographical Survey	305
------------------------	-----

SECTION D

Bibliographical Survey	305
1. The Performance of the Economy; 2. Industry; 3. International aspects; 4. Money and finance; 5. Fluctuations; 6. Building; 7. Employment and labour; 8. General texts
Bibliographical Postscript	335
Index of Names	337
Subject Index	341