

Contents

Brief contents	v	3 Buyer behaviour	81
Guided tour of the book and MyMarketingLab	x	Learning objectives	81
Endorsements	xii	Introduction	81
Preface	xiii	The consumer decision-making process	82
About the authors	xiv	Buying situations	88
Acknowledgements	xv	Environmental influences	91
		Psychological influences: the individual	93
1 Marketing dynamics	1	Sociocultural influences: the group	102
Learning objectives	1	Defining B2B marketing	109
Introduction	1	B2B customers	110
Marketing defined	3	Characteristics of B2B markets	111
The marketing concept in the organisation	21	The buying decision-making process	116
Marketing management responsibilities	26	The buying centre	120
Marketing scope	32	Buying criteria	121
Chapter summary	35	Chapter summary	123
Questions for review and discussion	36	Questions for review and discussion	124
Case study 1 Devices and desires	36	Case study 3 Choose your own remedy	124
References for chapter 1	39	References for chapter 3	127
2 The European marketing environment	41	4 Segmenting markets	129
Learning objectives	41	Learning objectives	129
Introduction	41	Introduction	129
The nature of the European marketing environment	42	The concept of segmentation	132
The sociocultural environment	45	Segmenting B2B markets	132
The technological environment	51	Segmenting consumer markets	135
The economic environment	55	Implementation of segmentation	148
The ethical environment	61	Benefits of segmentation	152
The political and legal environments	63	The dangers of segmentation	153
The ecological environment	70	Criteria for successful segmentation	154
Chapter summary	73	Chapter summary	155
Questions for review and discussion	75	Questions for review and discussion	156
Case study 2 Got any gum, chum?	75	Case study 4 The colour of money: is the 'pink pound' any different?	157
References for chapter 2	78	References for chapter 4	159

5 Marketing information and research	161	Questions for review and discussion	285
Learning objectives	161	Case study 7 You want to go compare? Simples	285
Introduction	161	References for chapter 7	288
Marketing research: definition and role	164
Types of research	167	8 Place	291
Marketing information systems	172	Learning objectives	291
Decision support systems	175	Introduction	291
The marketing research process	175	Channel structures	293
Secondary research	179	Rationale for using intermediaries	299
Primary research	180	Types of intermediary	306
Ethics in marketing research	198	Channel strategy	321
Chapter summary	200	Chapter summary	332
Questions for review and discussion	201	Questions for review and discussion	333
Case study 5 'And now, here are the football results'	201	Case study 8 Strolling down the virtual aisles	334
References for chapter 5	203	References for chapter 8	336
6 Product	205	9 Promotion: integrated marketing communication	339
Learning objectives	205	Learning objectives	339
Introduction	205	Introduction	339
Anatomy of a product	206	Communications planning model	341
Product classification	209	Communications planning model: review	364
Understanding the product range	212	Chapter summary	365
Branding	215	Questions for review and discussion	366
Product management and strategy	221	Case study 9 Flying in from Rio	366
The product lifecycle	234	References for chapter 9	368
Market evolution	240
Product management and organisation	246	10 Promotion: advertising and sales promotion	370
Chapter summary	246	Learning objectives	370
Questions for review and discussion	247	Introduction	370
Case study 6 Opulence in the Orient	248	The role of advertising	371
References for chapter 6	249	Formulating the advertising message	376
 		Advertising media	381
7 Price	252	Developing an advertising campaign	391
Learning objectives	252	Sales promotion	397
Introduction	252	Chapter summary	415
The role and perception of price	254	Questions for review and discussion	416
External influences on the pricing decision	258	Case study 10 Celebrity endorsement: we can't see the Woods for the tweets	416
Internal influences on the pricing decision	267	References for chapter 10	418
The process of price setting	270
Chapter summary	284

11 Promotion: direct and digital marketing	421	Introduction	497
Learning objectives	421	The role and importance of marketing planning and strategy	499
Introduction	421	Influences on planning and strategy	503
Direct marketing	423	The marketing planning process	509
Digital direct marketing	436	Organising marketing activities	541
Chapter summary	449	Controlling marketing activities	543
Questions for review and discussion	450	Chapter summary	544
Case study 11 If the shoe fits . . .	451	Questions for review and discussion	545
References for chapter 11	452	Case study 13 Retailing a sustainable strategy	546
		References for chapter 13	549
12 Promotion: personal selling, PR and sponsorship	455	14 Services and non-profit marketing	552
Learning objectives	455	Learning objectives	552
Introduction	455	Introduction	552
Personal selling: definition, role and tasks	457	Perspectives on service markets	554
The personal-selling process	462	Services marketing management	564
Sales management	469	Cause-related marketing	578
Trade shows and exhibitions	474	Chapter summary	586
Public relations	476	Questions for review and discussion	587
Sponsorship	483	Case study 14 Fast-food: feeding the hungry traveller	587
Cause-related marketing	489	References for chapter 14	589
Chapter summary	490
Questions for review and discussion	492	Index	591
Case study 12 Trust: winning it, exploiting it, losing it	492	Index of company names	605
References for chapter 12	494
13 Marketing strategy and planning	497
Learning objectives	497		