

Contents

	Preface	vii
1	Asia and Theories of Development	1
2	The Evolution of Asian Concepts of Power	31
3	East Asia: Varieties of Confucian Authority	55
4	Southeast Asia: From God-Kings to the Power of Personal Connections	90
5	The South Asian Subcontinent: Hindu and Muslim Power and the Rewards of Narcissism	133
6	The Riddle of Japan: The Combining of Competition and Consensus	158
7	China: The Illusion of Omnipotence	182
8	Korea, Taiwan, and Vietnam: Forms of Aggressive Confucianism	215
9	Malaysia: Confrontation of Two Incompatible Cultures	248
10	Islamic Power: The Pulls of Reformism and Fundamentalism	266

vi CONTENTS

11	The Substance of Asian Power: Formal Structures and Informal Relations 283
12	Paternalistic Authority and the Triumph of Dependency 320
	Notes 347
	Index 397