

Contents

PREFACE, 1995 ix

PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION xliii

I	The Many Wants of Science	3
II	Ennobling and Purifying the Mind	14
III	The Flaws of American Physics	25
IV	Pure Science and Practical Politics	45
V	Research and Reform	60
VI	Joining the Revolution	75
VII	A Need for New Patrons	91
VIII	“War Should Mean Research”	102
IX	The War Work of the Physicists	117
X	Cold War in Science	139
XI	The Impact of Quantum Mechanics	155
XII	Popularization and Conservatism	170
XIII	Making the Peaks Higher	185
XIV	A New Center of Physics	200
XV	Miraculous Year	222
XVI	Revolt Against Science	236
XVII	The New Deal and Research	252
XVIII	Recovery in Physics	267
XIX	Organizing for Defense	287
XX	A Physicists’ War	302
XXI	The Bomb and Postwar Research Policy	324
XXII	Victory for Elitism	349
XXIII	The Physicists Established	367

XXIV	New Revolt Against Science	393
XXV	A Degree of Disestablishment	410

GLOSSARY OF MANUSCRIPT CITATIONS	427
----------------------------------	-----

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	431
-----------------	-----

ESSAY ON SOURCES	435
------------------	-----

INDEX	465
-------	-----