

Contents

List of illustrations	viii
Preface	ix
Abbreviations	xi
A note on terminology and nomenclature	xiii
Introduction	1
1 The rise of Rome: Italy 338–200 BC	11
The Samnites	17
The Samnite Wars	17
The Pyrrhic War	19
Treaty with Carthage	20
First Punic War	20
Roman manpower	21
Hannibal and the allies	22
Reasons for revolt	23
Treatment of secessionist allies	27
2 Mechanisms of Roman control: treaties, alliances and colonies	31
The Latin War and the basis of Roman control	40
Roman colonization	41
Roman treaties and their terms	42
Treaties and the law	43
Military levies and how they worked	45
Alternatives to treaties	46
Ancient views of Roman alliances	47

CONTENTS

3	The decline of the alliance: Italy in the second century BC	49
	Colonization	56
	Unrest in Italy	57
	War in northern Italy	61
	Changes in allied status	62
	Maltreatment of allies	64
	Increasing wealth and the benefits of empire	65
	Trade and finance: Italians in the East	66
	Economic background to the land reforms	68
	Earlier land legislation	69
	Motivations for reform	70
	The Terms of the Land Law, 133 BC	71
	The Land Commission	71
	Further reforms: 132–122 BC	74
	The legislation of C. Gracchus, 123 BC	75
	Legal reforms	76
4	The social and civil wars, 90 BC–AD 14	79
	Enfranchisement and the Gracchan Land Law	91
	Gaius Gracchus and the extension of citizenship	91
	Trade and finance: Romans and Italians in the provinces	93
	Restrictions on allies	95
	The Social War	100
	The civil wars	105
	Elite mobility and integration in the First century BC	108
5	Italy and the emperor	111
	The organization of Italy	120
	Imperial colonization	121
	Taxation and remissions	122
	Law and order	123
	Italians in high places	124
	Emperors and the economy	125
	Imperial estates	127
	Imperial edicts	127
	Benefactions and imperial patronage	129
	Honouring the emperor	132
6	The Italian economy	137
	Natural resources of Italy	146
	Dependence on provinces	147
	Villas in Italy	148
	Tenancy	152
	Markets and transport of goods	154
	City and countryside	155

CONTENTS

Trade and taxation	156
Pastoralism	158
Loans, rentals and purchases	160
Property rentals	161
7 Cults, sanctuaries and priesthoods in Roman Italy	165
The gods as protectors of the city	176
Temples and sanctuaries: form, function and upkeep	176
Italic cults	180
Foreign cults	181
Rustic cults	184
Cults and Roman control	186
Priests and cult personnel	187
The imperial cult	190
8 Municipal Italy 1: constitutions and political life of the city	195
How cities were constituted: municipal charters	202
Roman magistrates and pre-Roman survivals	206
Roman control: praefecti , curators and senatorial supervision	207
Divisions within the city: Pagi and Vici	209
Municipal career structures and the political process	210
9 Municipal Italy 2: the social structure of the city	215
Euergetism and the idea of munificence	224
Building and munificence	225
“Bread and circuses”: Games and sportulae	229
Commemorations and honorific inscriptions	232
Euergetism and the law	234
Municipal patrons: appointment, status and activities	235
Social rules and attitudes	238
Municipal senators	240
Equestrian careers	242
Veterans in Italy	242
Local patriotism	243
Augustales	245
Slaves and freedmen	247
Collegia and their activities	248
Notes	253
Bibliography	265
Index	271