

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction: Traditions of Nationhood in France and Germany	1
I. THE INSTITUTION OF CITIZENSHIP
1. Citizenship as Social Closure	21
2. The French Revolution and the Invention of National Citizenship	35
3. State, State-System, and Citizenship in Germany	50
II. DEFINING THE CITIZENRY: THE BOUNDS OF BELONGING
4. Citizenship and Naturalization in France and Germany	75
5. Migrants into Citizens: The Crystallization of Jus Soli in Late-Nineteenth-Century France	85
6. The Citizenry as Community of Descent: The Nationalization of Citizenship in Wilhelmine Germany	114
7. "Etre Français, Cela se Mérite": Immigration and the Politics of Citizenship in France in the 1980s	138
8. Continuities in the German Politics of Citizenship	165
Conclusion	179
Notes	191
Bibliography	245
Index	267