

CONTENTS

PREFACE	xi
ONE The Glamorous Hero How Keynes Became Hayek's Idol, 1919–27	1
TWO End of Empire Hayek Experiences Hyperinflation Firsthand, 1919–24	15
THREE The Battle Lines Are Drawn Keynes Denies the “Natural” Order of Economics, 1923–29	29
FOUR Stanley and Livingstone Keynes and Hayek Meet for the First Time, 1928–30	46
FIVE The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance Hayek Arrives from Vienna, 1931	65
SIX Pistols at Dawn Hayek Harshly Reviews Keynes's Treatise, 1931	81

SEVEN Return Fire	95
Keynes and Hayek Lock Horns, 1931
EIGHT The Italian Job	110
Keynes Asks Piero Sraffa to Continue the Debate, 1932
NINE Toward The General Theory	123
The Cost-Free Cure for Unemployment, 1932–33
TEN Hayek Blinks	138
The General Theory Invites a Response, 1932–36
ELEVEN Keynes Takes America	154
Roosevelt and the Young New Deal Economists, 1936
TWELVE Hopelessly Stuck in Chapter 6	171
Hayek Writes His Own “General Theory,” 1936–41
THIRTEEN The Road to Nowhere	188
Hayek Links Keynes’s Remedies to Tyranny, 1937–46
FOURTEEN The Wilderness Years	207
Mont-Pèlerin and Hayek’s Move to Chicago, 1944–69
FIFTEEN The Age of Keynes	226
Three Decades of Unrivalled American Prosperity, 1946–80
SIXTEEN Hayek’s Counterrevolution	247
Friedman, Goldwater, Thatcher, and Reagan, 1963–88

SEVENTEEN The Battle Resumed	266
Freshwater and Saltwater Economists, 1989–2008
EIGHTEEN And the Winner Is . . .	285
Avoiding the Great Recession, 2008 Onward
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	297
NOTES	299
SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY	347
INDEX	357