

Table of Contents

List of contributors	ix
Introduction	xi
1. John Michael Montias, Quantitative Methods in the Analysis of 17th Century Dutch Inventories	1
2. Neil De Marchi and Hans J. Van Miegroet, Pricing Invention: “Originals,” “Copies,” and their Relative Value in Seventeenth Century Netherlandish Art Markets	27
3. William Goetzmann, How Costly is the Fall from Fashion? Survivorship Bias in the Painting Market	71
4. Corinna Czujack, Renato Flôres Jr. and Victor Ginsburgh, On Long-run Price Comovements between Paintings and Prints	85
5. James Pesando and Pauline M. Shum, Price Anomalies at Auction: Evidence from the Market for Modern Prints	113
6. Olivier Chanel, Louis-André Gérard-Varet and Stéphanie Vincent, Auction Theory and Practice: Evidence from the Market for Jewellery	135
7. Claudia Keser and Mark Olson, Experimental Examination of the Declining-price Anomaly	151
8. William Landes and Richard Posner, The Economics of Legal Disputes over the Ownership of Works of Art and Other Collectibles	177
9. William Grampp, A Colloquy about Art Museums: Economics Engages Museology	221
10. Peter Cannon-Brookes, Cultural-Economic Analyses of Art Museums: a British Curator’s Viewpoint	255
11. Bruno S. Frey and Isabelle Busenhart, Special Exhibitions and Festivals: Culture’s Booming Path to Glory	275

viii Table of contents

12. Ruth Towse, Economics of Training Artists.....	303
13. David Throsby, Disaggregated Earnings Functions for Artists	331
14. Pierre-Michel Menger and Marc Gurgand, Work and Compensated Unemployment in the Performing Arts. Exogenous and Endogenous Uncertainty in Artistic Labour Markets	347