

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE

v

PART ONE. NATURE

I	INTRODUCTION: THE BACKGROUND	1
	1. Technology Neglected in Theory	1
	2. Technology and Its Method	4
	3. The Rise of Science From Technology	8
	4. Philosophy in Decline	9
	5. Prospects for A Philosophical Revival	14
II	MATTER	17
	1. Conceptions of Matter, Old and New	17
	2. The Properties of Matter	18
	3. The Kinds of Energy	21
	4. Material Particulars and Their Inseparable Properties	22
	5. Material Particulars: The Separable Properties	25
	6. Further Complications of Matter	27
	7. The Soft Variables	29

VIII

III	UNIVERSALS: THE FORMS	33
	1. Material and Logical Objects	33
	2. Propositions	36
	3. The Scientific Method	39
	4. The Pure Universals	41
	5. Universals in Science and Mathematics	42
	6. The Platonic Conception	45
	7. The Final Picture	47
IV	UNIVERSALS: THE QUALITIES	51
	1. The Failure to Recognize Force as A Quality	51
	2. The Properties of Qualities	54
	3. The Quality of Force	55
	4. The Background of Violence	56
	5. The Quality as Universal	58
V	THE UNIVERSE	61
	1. The Atypical Earth Conditions	61
	2. Epistemological Implications	62
	3. Ontological Considerations	67
	4. The Two-Tiered System of the Universe	69

PART TWO. HUMAN NATURE

VI	MAN: NEEDS AND DRIVES	73
	1. Man As A Product of Artifacts	73
	2. The Theory of Organ-Specific Needs	76
	3. Society and the Organ-Artifact Relationship	78
	4. The Making of Cultural Differences	81
VII	MAN: PERVERSITY	83
	1. Perversity	83
	2. The Effects of Technology	86
	3. Disorder and Irrationality	88

VIII	MIND: PERCEPTION	91
	1. Consciousness	91
	2. Perception as Encounter	95
	3. Perceiving as Knowing	98
	4. The Contribution of Technology	100
IX	MIND: CONCEPTION	103
	1. The Experiences of Entire Man	103
	2. Conception	107
	3. Three Theses	108
	4. Assisted Conception	110
	5. The Mind and Its Objects	111
	6. Coping with Knowledge	112
X	MORALITY: THE GOOD	117
	1. The Fact of Moral Practice	117
	2. The Moral Integrative Levels	118
	3. The Individual's Encounter With Himself	119
	4. The Individual's Encounter With Culture	122
	5. Societies as Repositories of Artifacts	123
	6. The Individual's Encounter With Humanity	126
	7. The Individual's Encounter With the Cosmos	128
XI	MORALITY: THE BAD	131
	1. Immorality	131
	2. Individual Bad Behavior	132
	3. Bad Social Behavior	136
	4. Moral Strategy	138
XII	RHETORIC	141
	1. Languages As Artifacts	141
	2. The Origins of Formal Communication	143
	3. The Explosion in Communication Technology	145
	4. Information Theory	147
	5. The Colloquial Languages	149
	6. Technology and The Use of Language	151

XIII	POLITICS	155
	1. The Factor of Technology	155
	2. Technology and Bureaucracy	156
	3. The Politics of Technology	158
	4. Technology: The Negative Effects	159
	5. Belief and Technology	160
XIV	ART	163
	1. Science and The Fine Arts	163
	2. Art As A Return to Primitive Nature	164
	3. Art As A Reflection of Scientific Abstraction	169
	4. The Altered Theory of Aesthetics	176
XV	RELIGION	181
	1. Religion Aided by Technology	181
	2. Religion Confronted by Science	184
	3. Mystical Materialism	186
XVI	CONCLUSION: THE FOREGROUND	193
	1. Technology and Society	193
	2. Science and Society	195
	3. Philosophy and Society	197
	4. Society and The Environment	199
	WRITINGS ON TECHNOLOGY	201
INDEX		203