

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Preface	xii
Part I INTRODUCTION	1
1 Social Policy and Professional Social Control	3
2 The Medical Group, Its Problems, and Its Rules	18
Part II COPING WITH WORK PROBLEMS	39
3 Stances Toward Demand and Supply	41
4 Creating Supply for Demand	55
5 Renegotiating Specialty Boundaries by Referrals	69
6 The Organization and Control of Work	86
Part III THE FOUNDATION FOR SOCIAL CONTROL	103
7 The Neutralization of Formal Authority	105
8 The Rule of the Collegium	120
9 The Bases for Colleague Evaluation	138
10 Gaps in Information on Performance	150
11 The Threat of the Medical Record	167
12 The Functional and Symbolic Properties of Sanctions	186
	vii

Part IV	SANCTIONS AND CONTROL BY PROFESSIONALS	203
13	The Variety of Professional Sanctions	205
14	The Failure of Professional Sanctions	223
15	Human Services and the Fate of the Collegium	240
APPENDIXES ON THE STUDY		261
	The Study of a Group Practice	263
	Appendix A: Proposal to Study Group Practice	276
	Appendix B: Interview Schedules	281
References		291
Author Index		297