
Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: In the American Beginning 1

Preconditions

1 Narrating the Assimilation of Nature 9

2 Surveying the Ground 21

First Narrative: The Axe

3 Axe, Clearing, Cabin 43

4 The Nurturing Forest 71

Second Narrative: The Mill

5 The Mill, or “Natural Power” 91

6 Pollution and Class Conflict 117

Third Narrative: The Canal and the Railroad

7 “Let Us Conquer Space” 147

8 “The Route of Superior Desolation” 175

Fourth Narrative: Irrigation

9 “Conquered Rivers Are Better Servants than Wild Clouds” 205

10 Water Monopoly: Federal Irrigation and Factories in the Field 233

Metanarrative: Synthesis and Rebuttal

11 Progress, or Entropy? 261

Conclusion: Second Creation, Conservation, and Wilderness 283

Notes 303

Bibliography 345

Index 365