

Contents

Illustrations | vi Acknowledgements | vii
Author's note | viii Acronyms | ix Glossary | xi
Maps | xiii–xiv

Introduction	1
1 Historical legacies	8
2 The Ne Win years, 1962–88	26
3 Breaking the silence, 1988–90	46
4 Military rule continues, 1990–2000	70
5 The Than Shwe years, 2000 and beyond	93
6 Families: fostering conformity	113
7 Communities: going with the flow	134
8 The military: a life sentence	153
9 Prison: 'life university'	171
10 Education: floating books and bathroom tracts	189
11 The artistic community: in the dark, every cat is black	209
12 Religion and magic: disappearing jewels and poltergeists	226
13 The internationalization of Burma's politics.	247
14 Conclusion: a different Burma	269
Notes 276 Bibliography 289
Index 295	