

Contents

Abbreviations	xiii
Introduction	1
1. The language of Athenian women	15
2. The naming of women in Greek and Roman comedy	43
3. The anatomy of euphemism in Aristophanic comedy	70
4. Talking about laughter in Aristophanes	104
5. Old Comedians on Old Comedy	116
6. Slave and citizen in Aristophanic comedy	136
7. Monsters, ogres, and demons in Old Comedy	155
8. The silence of Strepsiades and the agon of the first Clouds	176
9. Response to Slater, 'Bringing up Father: paideia and ephebeia in the Wasps '	192
10. An alternative democracy and an alternative to democracy in Aristophanic comedy	204
11. Lysistrata the warrior	223
12. Nudity, obscenity, and power: modes of female assertiveness in Aristophanes	237
13. Kleophon and the restaging of Frogs	254
14. Platonios Diff. Com. 29–31 and 46–52 Koster: Aristophanes' Aiolosikon , Kratinos' Odyssēs , and Middle Comedy	272
References	289
Index locorum	307
General Index	334