

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: Depression and Narrative Hilary Clark	1
 1. Negotiating Illness Identity and Stigma
Chapter 1 My Symptoms, Myself: Reading Mental Illness Memoirs for Identity Assumptions Jennifer Radden	15
Chapter 2 The Language of Madness: Representing Bipolar Disorder in Kay Redfield Jamison's An Unquiet Mind and Kate Millett's The Loony-Bin Trip Debra Beilke	29
Chapter 3 Winter Tales: Comedy and Romance Story-Types in Narratives of Depression Brenda Dyer	41
Chapter 4 "Repenting Prodigal": Confession, Conversion, and Shame in William Cowper's Adelphi Hilary Clark	55
Chapter 5 Leonid Andreev's Construction of Melancholy Frederick H. White	67

II. Gender and Depression

- Chapter 6 Storying Sadness: Representations of Depression in the Writings of Sylvia Plath, Louise Glück, and Tracy Thompson 83
Suzanne England, Carol Ganzer, and Carol Tosone
- Chapter 7 “Addiction got me what I needed”: Depression and Drug Addiction in Elizabeth Wurtzel’s Memoirs 97
Joanne Muzak
- Chapter 8 Narrating the Emotional Woman: Uptake and Gender in Discourses on Depression 111
Kimberly Emmons
- Chapter 9 Fact Sheets as Gendered Narratives of Depression 127
Linda M. McMullen

III. Depression across the Media

- Chapter 10 A Dark Web: Depression, Writing, and the Internet 145
Kiki Benzon
- Chapter 11 A Meditation on Depression, Time, and Narrative Peregrination in the Film The Hours 157
Diane R. Wiener
- Chapter 12 Therapy Culture and TV: The Sopranos as a Depression Narrative 165
Deborah Staines

IV. Literary Therapies

- Chapter 13 For the Relief of Melancholy: The Early Chinese Novel as Antidepressant 179
Andrew Schonebaum
- Chapter 14 Manic-Depressive Narration and the Hermeneutics of Countertransference: Coleridge’s The Rime of the Ancient Mariner 195
Mark A. Clark

V. 'Depression and the Limits of Narrative

Chapter 15 Writing Self/Delusion: Subjectivity and Scriptotherapy in Emily Holmes Coleman's The Shutter of Snow Sophie Blanch	213
Chapter 16 Depressing Books: W. G. Sebald and the Narratives of History Eluned Summers-Bremner	229
List of Contributors	243
Index	247