

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Textual Note	ix
Introduction: Ireland through the looking-glass	1
1. The cult of the author: Brian, Flann and Myles	5
2. The genesis of At Swim-Two-Birds	34
3. 'Nonsense is a new sense': The Third Policeman in 1939	63
4. Irish Myles: Cruiskeen Lawn and An Béal Bocht	91
5. Newspaper wars: Cruiskeen Lawn in the 1940s	126
6. 'The Dublin Character': plays and later work	174
Afterword	205
Notes and references	209
Bibliography	251
Index	267