

Contents

---

Acknowledgements	ix
Note on notes	x
A new introduction – Ideology and Commitment: A Personal Account	xi
Foreword to the Second Edition	xx
The politics and cultures of discord (1997) Spotting cultures; 'fat, rich festival cunts'; rectifying our anomaly; materialism and subculture; making it political	xxi
1 Introduction	1
2 War stories Bringing us victory; consensus and its enemies; the broken promise	6
3 Literature and cultural production Telling stories; literature as a cultural apparatus; contesting stories; literature and intervention	26
4 Class/culture/welfare Culture, class and dissidence; 'a Woolworth life': culture under threat; literature and welfare- capitalism; culture preserved; discrimination; after welfare	44

CONTENTS

- 5 Queers, treachery and the literary establishment 68
The return of Ambrose Silk; civilization and the 'effeminate'; the homosexual disturbance;
treachery and after; sex and the Movement
- 6 Freedom and the Cold War 97
Existentialism and politics; the Cold War;
the myth of 1984; the Free World and free literature;
the free market; free – for what?
- 7 Cultural plunder and the savage within 132
Cultural plunder; phobic and structural racism;
colonial crisis; literature and the metropolis;
a crisis of self esteem; the savage within; nature
and culture
- 8 Making a scene 173
Putting on the style; music and movement;
Blacks, existentialists and Beats; reasons for attendance; lipstick on your collar; commerce and authenticity
- 9 Reinventing Modernism 207
Anglo-Saxon attitudes; Modernism in the global village; alienation; conductors; the politics of English studies; journalism and literature
- 10 Women writing: Sylvia Plath 230
What happened to feminism; the politics of madness; women writing; the scriptor scripted;
TH; rabbit catcher; the case for extremism; afterlife
- 11 The rise of Left-culturism 263
Class and the establishment; socialism with a British face; CND and a new-left intelligentsia; Left-culturism; the state and the Left
- 12 Intellectuals and workers 287
What about the workers?; new-left subculture;
the working class revisited; cultural work

13 The ways we live now	315
The failure of welfare-capitalism; the failure of 'good' culture; Postmodernism and standards; new-right cultural production; dismantling 'the culture'; freedom once more
List of books and articles cited	353
Indexes	379