

TABLE OF CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	VI
Acknowledgments	VII
Introduction	1
1. Frame, Framing, and Beginning	9
1.1. Frame Conceptions in the Social and Cognitive Sciences	9
1.2. Spaces of Understanding and Perspectives of Cognition	12
1.3. Novelistic Frame and Framings.....	17
1.4. Framings and Beginnings.....	21
2. The Early Republic (1790–1836)	26
2.1. Historical Contexts	26
2.2. Novel Discourse: Hybrid Alignments of Fiction	29
2.3. Communication and Mediation: Social Embeddings.....	46
2.4. Epistolary Framing Gestures in the Early Republic.....	62
3. The American Renaissance (1837–1864)	70
3.1. Historical Contexts	70
3.2. Novel Discourse: Changing Faces of Fiction	73
3.3. Communication and Mediation: Fictional Transgressions	88
3.4. Oral Framing Gestures in American Romanticism.....	103
4. The Gilded Age (1865–1900)	109
4.1. Historical Contexts	109
4.2. Novel Discourse: New Facets of Fiction	112
4.3. Communication and Mediation: Framings in Continuity of Reality.....	133
4.4. Experiential Framing Gestures in American Realism	140
5. Framing Fiction: Summary and Outlook	150
5.1. Framing the Novel as a Social Artifact.....	151
5.2. Novel Communication	155
5.3. Framing Titles: Narrative Programs and Genre Aesthetics.....	159
5.4. Gestures of Novelistic Narration: Reading Across Initial Framings	163
5.5. Outlook: Further Directions for Studying Initial Framings.....	164
Bibliography
Texts	171
Criticism	184
Index of Names	196