
Contents

VOLUME I

| | |
|--|------|
| Acknowledgments | xi |
| Notes on Contributors | xiii |
| Introduction Julia M. Wright | 1 |
| Part One: The Middle Ages | 15 |
| 1. Táin Bó Cúailnge Ann Dooley | 17 |
| 2. Finn and the Fenian Tradition Joseph Falaky Nagy | 27 |
| 3. The Reception and Assimilation of Continental Literature Barbara Lisa Hillers | 39 |
| Part Two: The Early Modern Era | 57 |
| 4. Bardic Poetry, Masculinity, and the Politics of Male Homosociality Sarah E. McKibben | 59 |
| 5. Annalists and Historians in Early Modern Ireland, 1450–1700 Bernadette Cunningham | 76 |
| 6. “Hungry Eyes” and the Rhetoric of Dispossession: English Writing from Early Modern Ireland Patricia Palmer | 92 |
| 7. Kinds of Irishness: Henry Burnell and Richard Head Deana Rankin | 108 |

| | |
|--|-----|
| Part Three: The Eighteenth Century | 125 |
| 8. Crossing Acts: Irish Drama from George Farquhar to Thomas Sheridan Helen M. Burke | 127 |
| 9. Parnell and Early Eighteenth-Century Irish Poetry Andrew Carpenter | 142 |
| 10. Jonathan Swift and Eighteenth-Century Ireland Clement Hawes | 161 |
| 11. Merriman's Cúirt An Mbeonóiche and Eighteenth-Century Irish Verse Liam P. Ó Murchú | 178 |
| 12. Frances Sheridan and Ireland Kathleen M. Oliver | 193 |
| 13. "The Indigent Philosopher": Oliver Goldsmith James Watt | 210 |
| 14. Edmund Burke Luke Gibbons | 226 |
| 15. The Drama of Richard Brinsley Sheridan Robert W. Jones | 243 |
| Part Four: The Romantic Period | 259 |
| 16. United Irish Poetry and Songs Mary Helen Thunete | 261 |
| 17. Maria Edgeworth and (Inter)national Intelligence Susan Manly | 276 |
| 18. Mary Tighe: A Portrait of the Artist for the Twenty-First Century Harriet Kramer Linkin | 292 |
| 19. Thomas Moore: After the Battle Jeffery Vail | 310 |
| 20. The Role of the Political Woman in the Writings of Lady Morgan (Sydney Owenson) Susan B. Egenolf | 326 |
| Part Five: The Rise of Gothic | 343 |
| 21. Charles Robert Maturin: Ireland's Eccentric Genius Robert Miles | 345 |

| | | |
|--|--|-----|
| 22. | Joséph Sheridan Le Fanu: Gothic Grotesque and the Huguenot Inheritance Alison Milbank | 362 |
| 23. | A Philosophical Home Ruler: The Imaginary Geographies of Bram Stoker Lisa Hopkins | 377 |
| Part Six: The Victorian Era | | 393 |
| 24. | Scribes and Storytellers: The Ethnographic Imagination in Nineteenth-Century Ireland Síofán Ó Cadhla | 395 |
| 25. | Reconciliation and Emancipation: The Banims and Carleton Helen O'Connell | 411 |
| 26. | Davis, Mangan, Ferguson: Irish Poetry, 1831–1849 Matthew Campbell | 427 |
| 27. | The Great Famine in Literature, 1846–1896 Melissa Fegan | 444 |
| 28. | Dion Boucicault: From Stage Irishman to Staging Nationalism Scott Boltwood | 460 |
| 29. | Oscar Wilde's Convictions, Speciesism, and the Pain of Individualism Dennis Denisoff | 476 |
| VOLUME TWO | | |
| | Introduction Julia M. Wright | 1 |
| Part Seven: Transitions: Victorian, Revival, Modern | | 17 |
| 30. | Cultural Nationalism and Irish Modernism Michael Mays | 19 |
| 31. | Defining Irishness: Bernard Shaw and the Irish Connection on the English Stage Christopher Innes | 35 |
| 32. | The Novels of Somerville and Ross Vera Kreilkamp | 50 |
| 33. | W.B. Yeats and the Dialectics of Misrecognition Gregory Castle | 66 |

| | | |
|--|---|-----|
| 34. | John Millington Synge – Playwright and Poet Ann Saddlemeyer | 83 |
| 35. | James Joyce and the Creation of Modern Irish Literature Michael Patrick Gillespie | 98 |
| Part Eight: Developments in Genre and Representation after 1930 | | 113 |
| 36. | The Word of Politics/Politics of the Word: Immanence and Transcendence in Sean O’Casey and Samuel Beckett Sandra Wynands | 115 |
| 37. | Elizabeth Bowen: A Home in Writing Eluned Summers-Bremner | 129 |
| 38. | Changing Times: Frank O’Connor and Seán O’Faoláin Paul Delaney | 144 |
| 39. | “Ireland is small enough”: Louis MacNeice and Patrick Kavanagh Alan Gillis | 159 |
| 40. | Irish Mimes: Flann O’Brien Joseph Brooker | 176 |
| Part Nine: Debating Social Change after 1960 | | 193 |
| 41. | Reading William Trevor and Finding Protestant Ireland Gregory A. Schirmer | 195 |
| 42. | The Mythopoeic Ireland of Edna O’Brien’s Fiction Maureen O’Connor | 209 |
| 43. | Anglo-Irish Conflict in Jennifer Johnston’s Fiction Silvia Diez Fabre | 224 |
| 44. | Living History: The Importance of Julia O’Faolain’s Fiction Christine St Peter | 234 |
| 45. | Holding a Mirror Up to a Society in Evolution: John McGahern Eamon Maber | 248 |
| Part Ten: Contemporary Literature: Print, Stage, and Screen | | 263 |
| 46. | Brian Friel: From Nationalism to Post-Nationalism F.C. McGrath | 265 |
| 47. | Telling the Truth Slant: The Poetry of Seamus Heaney Eugene O’Brien | 281 |

| | | |
|-----|---|-----|
| 48. | Belfast Poets: Michael Longley, Derek Mahon, and Medbh McGuckian Richard Rankin Russell | 296 |
| 49. | Eiléan Ní Chuilleanáin's Work of Witness Guinn Batten | 312 |
| 50. | Eavan Boland's Muse Mothers Heather Clark | 328 |
| 51. | John Banville's Dualistic Universe Elke D'boker | 345 |
| 52. | Between History and Fantasy: The Irish Films of Neil Jordan Brian McLroy | 360 |
| 53. | "Keeping That Wound Green": The Poetry of Paul Muldoon David Wheatley | 374 |
| 54. | Nuala Ní Dhomhnaill and the "Continuously Contemporary" Frank Sewell | 390 |
| 55. | The Anxiety of Influence and the Fiction of Roddy Doyle Danine Farquharson | 410 |
| 56. | The Reclamation of "Injurious Terms" in Emma Donoghue's Fiction Jennifer M. Jeffers | 425 |
| 57. | Martin McDonagh and the Ethics of Irish Storytelling Patrick Lonergan | 436 |
| | Index | 451 |