

contents

figures and tables	ix
acknowledgments	xi
introduction: cuts to dissolves—defining and     situating ecocinema studies	1
stephen rust and salma monani
PART I ECOCINEMA THEORY	15
1 the ecocinema experience	17
scott macdonald
2 the aesthetics and ethics of eco-film criticism	43
david ingram
3 ecocinema and ideology: do ecocritics dream of a     clockwork green?	63
andrew hageman
4 an ecophilosophy of the moving image: cinema as     anthrobiogeomorphic machine	87
adrian ivakhiv
PART II ECOCINEMA PRACTICE: WILDLIFE AND     DOCUMENTARY FILM	107
5 penguins are good to think with: wildlife films,     the imaginary shaping of nature, and environmental     politics	109
luis vivanco
6 working with animals: regarding companion species     in documentary film	129
jennifer ladino
7 beyond fluidity: a cultural history of cinema under     water	149
nicole starosielski

8	nature writes the screenplays: commercial wildlife films and ecological entertainment claire molloy	169
PART III ECOCINEMA PRACTICE: HOLLYWOOD AND FICTIONAL FILM		189
9	hollywood and climate change stephen rust	191
10	appreciating the views: filming nature in into the wild , grizzly man , and into the west pat breerton	213
11	sympathy for the devil: the cannibalistic hillbilly in 1970s rural slasher films carter soles	233
PART IV BEYOND FILM		251
12	environmental film festivals: beginning explorations at the intersections of film festival studies and ecocritical studies salma monani	253
13	everybody knows this is nowhere: data visualization and ecocriticism sean cubitt	279
	resources	297
	contributors	315
	about the american film institute	319
	index	321