

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
CHAPTER 1
Gothic Double Binds, Or, Irish Terrorists Confront an Unholy Union	1
CHAPTER 2
The Wrong Marriage: Maturin and the Double Logic of Masculinity in the Unionist Gothic	27
CHAPTER 3
The Revolution Within: Wilde's Gothic and the Confines of Convention	59
CHAPTER 4
Overcoming Allegory: Joyce's Ulysses and the Limits of the Irish Gothic	87
CHAPTER 5
Engendering a Cartesian Gothic: Generic Form as History in Beckett's Fiction	125
EPILOGUE
The Poetics of Fear: Gothic Inheritance at the End of Modernity	169
Notes	175
Bibliography	193
Index	205